TO SUMMER VISITORS.

ALL who are in search of health and recreation are cordially invited to come to Dahlonega. With an altitude of 2,237 feet makes it one of the most healthy and delightful places in the south. So if you wish to enjoy a pure fresh mountain breeze and be comfortable during the summer months come. Good board can be obtained at private houses for $15 per month, and at hotels from $20 to $25. Stage fare from Gainesville, 25 miles, $1.50.

DAHLONEGA SCHOOLS

Report for the Year Ending May 31, 1902.

To the Board of Trustees, Dahlonega Public Schools.

Gentlemen:

Pursuant to your requirement I have the honor to submit the following report of the work of the public schools of Dahlonega for the year ending May 31, 1902.

STATISTIC ABSTRACTS.

WHITE SCHOOL.

Total number of pupils enrolled during year	248
Greatest number belonging at one time	201
Total number of days taught	184
Average number of pupils in daily attendance throughout year	152

COLORED PUPILS.

GENERAL.

There has been a marked increased in enrollment and attendance in the white school from year to year since the organization of the public school system, notwithstaning the facts that the population of the town has decreased somewhat, and that contagious deseases have previled in the community to same extent throughout the year. This improvement can first be shown by a comparison of the foregoing figures with those for last year (1900—1), which in their turn show an improvement over those of the preceding years (1899-1900).

1900-1901.

Total enrollment	229
Maximum belonging	180
Number days taught	184
Average number of pupils in daily attendance throughout year	182

PAY PUPILS.

Non-residents	3
Over age	1
Under age	3
Total white	7

Comparison of these figures indicates a steadily increasing unity of educational sentimental and school interest in the community.

In the colored school there was a decrease of 3 in enrolement and of 5 in average attendance compared with the preceding year.

The years work has been for the most part, entirely harmonious and the co-operation of patrons, board of trustees, and teachers has been most happy.

The superior efficiency of the graded system of instruction has been more clearly manifested during the year just closed, by better daily work on the part of pupils, higher marks made by the pupils on examination tests, and by a higher percentage of promotions, fully 90 per cent of those who were present at the final examinations having made a creditable passing average.

It is to be regretted that the school facilities are not entirely adequate to the requirements, the demand for a larger room, or auditorium, for general daily and public exercises being most apparent. It is earnestly urged that, if by any means it be possible, this need be provided for by the opening of the fall term.

In conclusion, it is proper that I should commend the earnest work of the teachers, and express appreciation of the staunch support and whole hearted interest of the trustees, and of the harmonious co-operation of the patrons and citizens.

Respectfully submitted,

Joel Mann Martin,

Supt. and Prin.

The Marks on the Packages.

The Philadelphia Times tells of the 'break' made by a tot of the family who was one of a party of little girls at a recent strawberry festival in the vicinity of her home.

She had been valiantly boasting of the manifold advantages of belonging to her family, and managed to hold her own against the vainglorious and ingenuous discourses of her companions.

They had gone from clothes to personal appearances, then to interior furnishings, and they finally brought up at parental dignity.

The minister's little girl boasted: "Every package that comes to my pa is marked D. D.

"An' every package that comes to my pa is marked M. D." retorted the daughter of a physician of the neighborhood.

Then came a fine snort of contempt from the heroine of this anecdote. "Huh! Every package that comes to our house is marked C. O. D. There, now!"

Some day the watchers will move silently about your home. The shadows will lengthen into the twilight of your departing day. Your arms will reach up to encircle some neck in a last, clinging embrace. Your eyes will look up to catch the last tender message—unspoken, because the heart is breaking. The heart that has served you so well will send out its life-currents with a feeble flutter. Lips, always rich with words of love, will stiffen into silence beneath the parting kiss! And then! —Arms will be folded over the quiet heart! Loving fingers, in their last tender ministry, will press lids over the sightless eyes! The one that loves you best will press a last kiss upon the pallid lips and then seal them for burial! What then? "The spirit will return to the God who gave it." What then? Brother, sister, how will you meet your God.—Interior.

Manhood in the Mechanic.

It is evident, says the Biblical Recorder, that the South will offer great opportunities for half a century or more to come, to young men who are trained for practical employments. Every day now altering opportunities for half a century or more to come, two young men who were trained in offices of workers, while their fellows were at colleges. Whether in manufacture, farming or commerce, the young man who brings himself intelligently and earnestly tasks will reap richer harvests than have yet been reaped in the South. Many a boy not meant to be preacher or teacher or lawyer should prepare none the less earnestly to be manufacturer, builder or railroad man with full confidence of serving his day effectually and reaching a worthy reward.

But in his preparation, whether in school or office or shop, he should not forget the man in him. He should not sacrifice the man in him upon the alter of the mechanic. Let him neither sacrifice the mechanic. The true man will save them both in himself.

Of course parents and young men are impatient of the schools, and if God's tedious ways! They cannot spend the time necessary to acquiring both a general and a special preparation, the boy must be making money. Made in the image of God as he is! To be sure the argument is a compelling one with some, and we recognize its absolute force. And yet it is a pity to put a handicap upon one's whole life. Granted that the boy ought to prepare for an industrial career—and we not only grant but urge it—the truth remains nevertheless that he deserves more than to be trained to work and make money. There are the incomparably larger concerns of his mind, tastes, spirit and relations as citizen, neighbor and father, never to be forgotten.

And so while we would encourage industrial education—as it is called, we would also abate not one jot of the old time emphasis upon general culture.—Walton County News.

Worlds Greatest Bridge.

The greatest bridge in the world is said to be located in the wilds of Burma, far from the nearest point of European civilization. It is 2,260 feet in length, 500 in height, cost nearly $1,000,000 and spans a tremendous gorge in the heart of a forest. What is more, it was built by American engineers in the comparitively short space of ten months amid difficulties almost inconceivable. Every bolt, truss and span was made to plan in Pennsylvania, shipped to Burma, together with all the machinery necessary for its construction, and when placed in position every part fitted to the fraction of an inch. The whole thing is looked upon as a triumph of American engineering which has given our skilled workmen world-wide prestige.

The silk culture will be started in Georgia by L. G. Magid, of New York.

One of our exchanges remarks that Mr. Cleveland is as dead politically as the ducks he kills.

The drouth of six weeks has been broken in Texas but not time enough to save the corn but will benefit cotton.

Negro women who appear on the streets of Macon hereafter drunk will be fined $25 dollars, says the mayor of that city.

The business portion of Alpharetta was destroyed by fire the other night, the Free Press, one of the best weeklies in Georgia, included.

After Peter Billups, a negro who drunk enough liquor to swim in, died in Athens the other day of dropsy, the physicians examined his liver and one lobe was found completely dried up and the other knotted and very hard.

A local newspaper is by far the best means to educate your children. They will read and learn more in the country newspaper in one year than they will in books in five years. A newspaper is a self-educator and is the cheapest and surest method.—Madison Advertiser.

Jane Toppan, the Barnstable, Mass., nurse who has confessed to the murder of thirty-one persons, and who has been sent to an insane asylum for life, asserted that she killed her victims for the pleasure it afforded her to see them die and to handle their bodies during the period when the life heat was leaving them.

James H. Roberts of Gainesville Ga., who left his wife to return in a few hours one day last week and the next thing heard of was found in a dying condition in Atlanta, is getting well. He was drugged and robbed by some unknown person. He was first found on the streets and locked up by a policeman who thought he was drunk.

Again there is an urgent demand for harvest labor in Kansas. The wheat is ripe, but there are few harvesters. The towns are catching all the tramps they can and sending them to the farms. Season after season there is this complaint of lack of help. Cannot American inventive genius step in and relieve this want of the farmers for harvesters?—Morning News.

The republicans of Lumpkin county not being able so far to get an independent democrat to make the race for the legislature are beginning to search among their own party for material, and we learn that Mr. Thomas A. P. Tate is being solicited to make the race. Mr. Tate never was much of a politican and we have no idea that he cares to neglect his farm and go out and spend a whole lot of useless time and money just to please some parties. There is no fun in it and Mr. Tate has sense enough to know it.

It must be admitted that, in adopting Filopino methods of torture, exasperated American soldiers showed becoming restrain, contenting themselves with the mildest in the list. The water cure is mild compared with another method which might well be termed the physic of Tantalus. This consists in burying the victim up to his head and placing articles of food near enough to be smelled as well as seen. "The torture is made more effective by putting sweets in the ear and nostrils to attract insects." Evidenly the little brown man of the Philippines must be given precedence of all races as an artist in the torture line.—Macon Telegraph.

Letter From a Former Dahlonegean.

KINGMAN, ARIZONA,
June 26th, 1902.

EDITOR-NUGGET,

DEAR SIR:—

I notice in your issue of the 20th June you discuss the matter of selling cigars and tobacco on Sunday through the medium of drug stores. I take it for granted that you oppose this practice; or may be it is your position that if drug stores may do this, other dealers should be allowed the same privilege. It is amusing to one who has lived in the great west for a number of years and become accustomed to the ways in the west, to think of the many restrictions you people back there place upon man's liberty. I cannot see what harm any one can find in a person buying what he may need on Sunday. In comparing our ways here with your ways there, I find that you do not allow the legal selling of spiritous liquors in the county of Lumpkin, nor the business men to open their places of business on the Sabbath; but I notice that you have more real drunkeness, fighting, shooting, cutting and knock downs there in the little county of Lumpkin, than we have here, probably in the entire territory of Arizona. Yet, there are no restrictions on the liberty of men here, so long as they do not interfere with other people's affairs, and go on in a peaceful way attending to their own business. There are thousands of licensed saloons, or barrooms, running every day in the year, business places the same; and if a man desires to attend to any of his business duties on Sunday he is not prevented from doing so by the law. Gambling games are kept open day and night, Sundays as well as the week days, and still in the face of all this, we have the most orderly country on the face of the earth.

It may puzzle some of your people there to know why such conditions can exist under our liberal idear of man's liberty in the west; but I think the solution of the proposition is this: When you tell a man he shall not do a thing, he then has the greatest desire to perform it; but if you tell him to go his way and bother no one, he then has less inclination to do any thing wrong, and the true man asserts himself in him and he becomes a self controled and ideal citizen.

A trip through the heart of the west, and study of its ways, would prove a good and profitable lesson to your law makers in Georgia. Why shut your doors in the face of a man who is accustomed to his cigar, daily, and tell him that he should not buy a cigar nor smoke it on Sunday? Give him what he wants on all occasions, satisfy him so long as he is willing to pay for it and nine times out of ten you will have a better citizen and a more prosperous country. I have been in the west since 1886, where I could buy a barrel of whisky any day in the week if I had so desired; or could have bought a drink of any thing I might have desired from the best of champagne down to the lowest grade of whisky; and still I have my first time to be drunk since leaving my native state Georgia; but I cannot truthfully say that I was not pretty full on numerous occasions while living in your temperence state. Give the boys more liberty and you will find them better men.

The grandest, most sympathetic and generous hearts to day, are beating beneath the wool shirts of the Western pioneer, and knows no restrictions but numbers among God's most noble men.

Very respectfully,
O. D. M. GADDIS.

Mr. F. T. Curry, of Rapley, S. C., dropped in to see us last Monday and after examining our job department was so well pleased with the work that he gave us an order for some which he carried back home with him tosday.

Bible Institute at Nimblewill July 20, 1902.

A Bible Institute will be held with the Nimblewill Baptist church, Lumpkin county, ten miles west of Dahlonega, the week following the third Sunday in July. Free entertainment is offered to the ministers and deacons who will attend and a large attendance is desired. Services on Sunday. Each one should bring a Bible, and if he wishes to take notes, bring a note book.

The Acts of the apostles will be the basis for the study. In the course of the study such subjects as the following will come up for discussion: The Proofs of the The Resurrection of Christ, The Kingdom of God, The Baptism of The Holy Spirit, The Second Coming of Christ, The Inspiration of the Scriptures, The Place of The Preached Word in The Salvation of Sinners, Conviction, Repentance Faith, Baptism, Bible Conversions, and the duties of ministers and deacons.

The institute will be conducted by Rev. R. D. DeWeese of Dahlonega, and he desires the prayerful sympathy and co-operation of all the bretheren. The meeting will be free to all to ask questions and enter into the discussions.

J. E. BLACKBURN, Chairman.

Mining Notes.

In a short while we will give our readers a full report of the expenses and amount of gold made by Crown Mountain so that all may know and understand exactly what has been done up to the time the plant had to close down on account of the drouth.

Work has ceased at the Breyman dredge boat until it rains and the river rises so they can get it above some shoals.

It may be that the Consolidated will put in a dredge boat and work the bed of Cane Creek. It is talked of. There seems to us that it would be a good move as there is an abundance of gold in this stream on the Company's property.

Roberts and Johnson, down on Cane Creek on the Gordon property, are still pitting off getting everything in readiness to begin hoisting out the gold with their lift.

Mr. Ashley hopes to get his big dredge boat in working order in about three weeks.

The iron mines being developed by the Consolidated Co. in this county are showing up well.

Mr. Maxwell had to close down the Lockhart this week on account of the drouth. It was paying but couldn't be continued were there a thousand dollars made a day.

The drouth has closed down about all the mines and we have but little to report under this head this week and will have still less if it continues.

We learn that Mr. Betz has leased his mine to a new company.

King Edward who was so seriously ill last week, is now said to be out of danger.

Mrs. Duncan, who killed her husband some time ago in Atlanta was acquitted last week.

Wonder if prohibitionist Guerry grins and makes an ugly face when he sees the name of Senator Beverage of Indianna in print.

During a dreadful storm near Chattanooga, Tenn., last Saturday one man was blown into a saw mill and literally cut to pieces.

The candidates for governor in the recent primary received the the following vote: Terrell, 62,736; Estill, 34,588; Guerry, 41,454.

The four doctors who waited on President McKinley will be allowed by congress $45,000, ten thousand more than the Garfield physicians received. Such charges as this are out of reason and should not be paid. No physican should be allowed no more for waiting on a president than a private citizen.

W. D. Cosley, after an absence from his home in DeKalb county, and believed to be dead, returned to his home last week. He got mad with his father is the only excuse rendered.

The "Georgian," Mr. Guerry's paper is out full of temperance and reform matter. Mr. Guerry wants office bad and thinks he can induce the people of Georgia to pick him up and place him in the gubernatorial chair later on.

It required 1,575 words by the dailies to tell about senator Baily choking senator Beverage of Indianna the other day, besides furnishing both their pictures. More space than the weeklies devote should a man kill another. But being congressman of course makes a big difference.

Lee, who killed a young lady at church in Fulton county recently has been tried and found guilty and sentenced to be hanged but whether it will ever occur we have doubts. A motion has been made for a new trial, which if refused the case will be carried up to the Supreme Court, and maybe after a long delay he will be placed in the chaingang for life and in a few years afterwards be pardoned by some sympathetic governor. This is a mawk at justice and is exactly what causes so many lynchings.

A republican soliciting a so called independent democrat to send in his application to a republican meeting soon to take place in Dahlonega.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, JULY 4, 1902.

The painter in brightening up Miss Susan McDonald's residence.

A little three-months-old girl of Mr. J. L. Loveless died Thursday afternoon of last week.

Dr. N. F. Howard and Mr. J. A. Howard have presented the college a nice lot of choice books.

A strange steer yearling cloudy color with no mark has been over at J. A. Stepps for about four weeks, and the owner is requested to come and get it at once.

Little Billy Signal is giving us a good deal of free advertising in his paper which would be of much benefit to us if the Signal had any circulation worth mentioning.

Mrs. Cunningham, of Atlanta, who arrived in Dahlonega one day last week for the purpose of spending the summer here for her health, is well pleased with the place as well as the climate.

Notwithstanding Mr. W. T. Bryson is more than sixty years of age he takes pride in shooting big game yet. His last bird was a crane a few days ago measuring six feet from the bill to its toes.

Marietta Ohio, the old home of Gen. Warner now living in Dahlonega, was visited by a very destructive cyclone last week. The General was out North during the time but fortunately was not in it.

Eleven out of the 18 applicants for teachers positions who recently stood the examination in Dahlonega received the following grades to-wit: First grade, five at $30 per month. Second four at $25. Third 2 at $20.

Several of our citizens received sample copies of the Police Gazette last week, all of whom read them with a great deal of interest. Those pretty women in tights charmed several, gray headed persons included.

Several of our subscribers in the North week before last complained of not receiving their NUGGETS of that issue. What's the trouble? They were sent off promptly and plainly addressed by a mailing machine.

The following is the retail price of some of the staple articles which keep the body and soul of people together in Dahlonega, to-wit: Meal 90 cents per bushel. Eggs 12½ cents per dozen and chickens from 10 to 15 cents a piece.

Some of our citizens tell us that the black potato bug has made its appearance here again after an absence of several years. It got too hot for the old greasy looking ones and it may be that these long bodied kind are acting as substitutes.

The agents for the Chicago Photograph Co. take more money out of the country than lightening rod dealers or any one else and should be taxed so as to put a stop to so much of it. Small photographs and more money would be of much more benefit to the country.

The other day a young woman with a little baby of a few days old wrote a letter to the mayor appealing for help saying that she had nothing to eat. She ought to have sent to the father of her child. He is plenty able to support both the child and mother and should be made to do it. It is his duty and if he had any manhood about him he would not let either suffer.

Joseph Longstreet, col., was bound over by Squire Edge of Crumby's district last week charged with bastardy by his sister-in-law, who was sent in to jail and locked up in default of bond. After the bailiff arrived here it was ascertained that he had not been given a chance to make a seven hundred dollar bond for the support of the child. He was carried back so this red tape required by law could be added. In a few hours the officer and prisoner returned and the latter was locked up again.

Undertaker D. C. Stow spent several days in Atlanta recently attending lectures delivered for the benefit of persons of his profession.

The report of Prof. J. M. Martin, principal of the Dahlonega public school on the first side will be found of much interest to the patrons and all others interested in this most excellent institution of learning.

When the electric line is completed to Dahlonega from Gainesville we understand that it is the intention of the owners of the pyrites mine to build a branch road of about six or seven miles to its property.

The other day a lot of moonshine liquor was brought near Dahlonega by some parties. Two came to town and after breaking the news to their customers one watched the revenue officer and the other the city marshal while a crowd started out in the direction of the keg resembling Coxes army.

A Boston firm sent us a proper-sition the other day for the insertingof a reader for which they proposed to pay about three-fourths of a cent per line for its appearance twelve months in the NUGGET—$6.00 all told. The parties must think that we live in a heathen country and are perishing.

The recent disastrous fires in two places in Georgia should be a warning to the people of Dahlonega and cause them to keep a watchful eye on their stoves and stove flues. Should fire break out during a dry time like this in Dahlonega with no way of fighting it the place would soon be reduced to a heap of ashes.

Pierean Edmonson, who was mentioned a couple of weeks ago as leaving out for Ducktown without paying a council fine, has returned. Not being able to find any place like home he came back and told Marshal Harbison that he was ready to go to work and settle off the matter. The officer gave him a job and he is now engaged in settling off with the city by the use of the pick and shovel.

Prof. Stamer, of the chair of agriculture of the State University was here last week looking over the grounds of the N. G. A. College and advising. The chair of agriculture has just recently been adopted by our college trustees, and it being a new thing they are going slow so as to be sure of get things on the right line to make practical agriculture a successful branch in this institution.

A very prominent person who never subscribed for a paper nor spent a nickel at a printing office in his life, visited our sanctum the other day and after looking around awhile told the devil to "go ahead, that's right. You will be a printer and make big money some time." We wondered how in the devil he expects that boy to do well or even live if everybody is as stingy as he is. Very poor encouragement indeed.

Several laborers have already gone to Alabama to work in the iron mine at from one dollar to two per day, and others are speaking of going. They don't consider the exenses attached to the trip. It requires $6.65 to land, board costs $15 per month, besides washing and other necessary expenses, doctor bills not included, showing that more money can be cleared here at 80 cents per day by residents of Dahlonega than they can save down there at $2.00 per day.

This is a year of politcs and preachers can do no good. They had just as well lay up the fiddle and the bow and go fishing till the political battle is over. The people now are like some grand juries when going to examine the pension list. If they are not drawing a pension themselves they have friends who are or expect to, and thereby pronounce everything all right without further work. So it is with the people now. If they are not candidates they have friends who are, and will be so wrapped up in politics that they will give but little notice to religious matters.

The dry winds we have had for several days are drying up what little moisture there is in the ground and beginning to injure the growing crops badly.

Many of our land owners are posting their property. If you take a notion to do the same send in and get cards we have on hand expressly for this purpose.

To-day Friday is the 4th. In the north it is a big day but down here but little attention is paid to it. There may be a few fire crackers popped by the boys. That's all.

A certain fellow in Dahlonega who had been inbibing in strong drink recently secured two gallons of corn liquor to taper off on, but he got sick and another fellow had to use the medicine.

Occasionly a moonshiner can be seen leaving out just at the break of day, after having been up all night here cupplying his customers with that liquid which is liked by both the high and low, looking sleepy and tired. The life of the blockader is not pleasant by any means.

Deputy Marshal Grizzle went up to Cane Creek district last Sunday and brought in a right nice little still, said to be Squire Waldens. It was not running but there was plenty of beer on hand. Squire, quite likely was attending church which saved him from the clutches of Uncle Sam.

Rev. D. J. Blackwell drew a live snake up from his well the other day, causing him to give a yell loud enough to be heard farther than the yard fence. It don't look like preachers would get scared at as small a thing as a snake, but they will. They have their trials and troubles same as other people.

The first issue of Mr. Guerry's new paper made its appearance among his strong supporters here last week and we understand that he will likely get a club of ten subscribers at this place. To all those who wish to read an office seekers literature from two to four years before he thinks there will be any chance for him, his paper is the one.

Had any of that committee appointed by congress to look after the treatment the negroes are receiving in the south, been down here the other day and seen a colored "butterfly" give her white down a four inch smile as he passed her on the street they could have gone back and made a report that would relieve the minds of those hot headed negro lovers in congress.

W. W. Quinn, who has been here for some time left out for Gainesville or some other parts the other day. During last summer and fall he had Mrs. Smith, a widow lady here to cook for him until the sum amounted to $24.10. He promised to pay her all the time but promises were all she got. Our prediction is that a man who treats a poor widow woman this way will never do any good.

We are told durmg an excursion from Ducktown to Knoxville recently some of the men from the former place acted so badly while on the train that they were removed from the horseless wagon to jails on the line, having no window lights for them to break out. It is reported that Nelson Daniel, of Dahlonega, was one of the parties. We were never on but one excursion and will never be on another.

Those who use so called temperance drinks will soon find that it creates a thirst for something stronger and goes on and on until the indulgar very often fills a drunkard's grave. If he passes away while having plenty of money to buy choice drinks a large crowd weeps over him, but if he reaches the point where he has to use Peruna, lemon extract or something else of the kind there will be but few people at his grave and his last resting place will be marked only by a short pile of red clay.

Mr. A. G. Kanady, one of White county's best farmers, visited relatives in Dahlonega this week, accompanied by his wife and a Miss O'Kelly.

Every time the "Old Corn Club" meets in Dahlonega every member is present, all remaining till a late hour without getting sleepy or ever grunting.

Sheriff Davis carried his sister Mrs. Grizzle, who had been adjudged a lunatic to the asylum this week. So afraid are the authorities of the small pox that they required Mrs. Grizzle to be vaccinated before she would be received.

That blockader who lost two gallons of liquor a short time ago here will be more careful in the future. He had two gallons in two jugs and when he went to deliver the contents of one to a certain member of the Methodist church some of the boys relieved him of the other.

Prof. Colvin was elected by the board of education last Tuesday as expert for the Teachers Institute which convenes here next week. This is a wise selection for the professor is an up to date man in educational matters. No other applicant, which surprises us very much for we felt confident that little Grammer Billy of the Signal would send in his application.

A short time ago when a certain drummer appeared in Dahlonega, being a member of the Baptist church caused him to introduce himself to the Baptist preacher here. The next day, Sunday, the divine called on him at his room and found him playing cards. When seeing the preachers appearance he fell back on the bed like he was asleep, leaving his companions with the cards to hold but the preacher very well knew that there were no three handed games.

Not long since Dr. C. H. Jones of Dahlonega having some business to transact with Rucker, the U. S. negro collector located in Atlanta, addressed him as H. A. Rucker. In replying the negro wrote after the doctors name "M. D." and then scratched it out. Notwithstanding all this we learn that Dr. Jones wants to run for the legislature on the independent ticket, who if there was any chance of his election, encourages republicanism and keep such men as Rucker in office by such a move.

A meeting was held at the Baptist church last Tuesday night for the purpose of reminding the Lord that He was not sending rain on Dahlonega. Our notion is that too much time has been taken up by some of its leaders in politics to have much effect in rain matters. Its pastor having accomplished such little good otherwise since being in charge of the church that he is going to leave, most certainly can't have much effect on the weather. Should there come a shower then we may look for business men not advertising to meet and ask the Lord for customers.

The regular monthly meeting of the board of education of Lumpkin county took place here last Tuesday. Only three members were present. Messrs. G. G. Evans, J. F. Sargent and J. T. Miller were the newly elected ones but the first named was the only one present out of the new body. Though business went along just the same as if a full board had been there. Among the busines transacted was one selected or will hereafter be, to visit the schools and have what they call educational rallies. This, we believe was a mistake. Col. Price year before last went to each school house in the county at an expense from two to three dollars per day and made speeches and if the attendance of the schools have increased we don't know it. There is no use of spending this extra money when it is the duty of the commissioner to do this, who draws a salary for such work. The first duty of the board is to select good competent teachers and with the appliance of a hickory can do more good in a day than a two or three dollars a day speaker can in a week.

Col. Price after, an absence of about two weeks in Atlanta and other places returned Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Meaders of White county spent last Sunday in Dahlonega with relatives.

It is said that the strike at the Ducktown copper mines has ended and we hope all of our Lumpkin friends over there are busy, gay and happy now.

The Atlanta Constitution and Journal are spreading themselves every Sunday. Sending out about as much reading matter in a day as a person can read in a week, with plenty of comic pictures to interest the little ones.

Being so crowded with work this week it rendered us unable to be present at the state democratic convention which convened in Atlanta Wednesday, but we sent a hand. The brewery has been running on double time and will likely be able to supply the demand for beer.

We notice that some of these women for whom the grand jury returned bills against at the last term of Lumpkin Superior Court are getting tame enough to return to Dahlonega again. First thing they know they will find themselves in jail eating 14 cents bacon.

If you have any money to spare take it to your home merchant where it is more convenient. Don't get all the tobacco, snuff and cigars on a credit at home and then go 25 miles to Gainesville to make purchases. You cry out high taxes, and this is one cause of them being so high, by building up other places and leting your own town take care of itself.

Hon. G. D. Bruce took in the democratic convention in Atlanta this week. The other Dahlonega representatives were Cols. Charters and Baker, Clerk Superior Court John H. Moore and Mr. H. D. Gurley. Col. Charters and Mr. Gurley were delegates to the congressional convention at Gainesville who went on down to see the folks in Atlanta.

The 12th of this month is our 46th birthday if we liye to see the time come. It is our desire to have a big time. Let those who are not already taking the NUGGET send in a dollar at once. We want to put the big pot in the little one and have a high old time, and wind up by taking a cup of strong ginger tea and retire so as to dream pleasantly about our enemies, especially those who don't speak to us.

When you ask a man to subscribe for your paper and he says, "Oh, I never read much, and besides, the times are too plagued hard," apologize and leave him. Life is too short to teach jack to sing soprano. All gentlemen nowadays read newspapers, lots of them. Show us a man who lives for years in a town or community and never subscribes for the papers published there and we will show you a man whose head is shaped like a piece of pie, with the point up, and whose ignorance is only exceeded by his gigantic gall, very truly remarks an exchange.

Since receiving our new job press and other printing material we have been doing about all the work here, causing Grammar Billy of the Signal to cry out hard times. Last week we are told that he wrote a long winded editorial, claiming that everything was falling off 25 per cent here, suggesting that the "lazy" marshal's salary be redeced to $20 per month. But what he says has no more effect than a tadpole, should it undertake to still the waves of the ocean during a big storm. It's true it is dull here now. It is dull every where at this season of the year, especially in a place like Dahlonega during college vacation and the work of the mines being retarded by a severe drouth. Yes, we guess it is dull times with little Billy. A streak of laziness and negligence of business causes part of it.

About 50 visitors at Porter Springs now.

Rev. Mr. DeWees went out and preached at Siloam church last Sunday.

In ordering the NUGGET please send the money along at the time so as to cause no delay.

Gen. Warner will be in to day or to-morrow and then he will tell us all about the railroad.

Alvena Coffee, col., was made to pay a fine of one and cost for striking his wife one day this week.

Lieut. Fred Price is here on a months visit. He came in Tuesday afternoon and his many friends here were glad to meet him.

Some of the good brethren of Dahlonega prayed for rain last Sunday and on that afternoon a light shower fell in sight on the Findley Ridge.

Lightning burnt out the switch board at the telephone office here last Wednesday causing a delay in the business of those wishing quick transit.

A printer named McNally, came up last week to take an interest in the Signal, but after looking around a little he declined and went in another direction.

Mr. John Housley and Will Worly on their return from a little outing the other day got up such high speed as to attract the attention of the marshal. It seemed to be a "ride for life."

On Wednesday afternoon we had a refreshing shower and now those who attended church, or some of them at least, believe that their prays were answered. But this is not the case. The almanac spoke about it before.

We keep a large supply of different kinds of envelopes and paper on hand. If you are needing any send in. We furnish and print stationery for just a little more than the retail price of blank envelopes and paper.

U. S. Deputy Marshal Grizzle visited a still house up in Nimble-will district this week, said to be long to a divine. There were no one at the illicit distillery but a letter found in a pair of pants found close by told the tale.

Another reason why it is unnecessary for that congressional investigating committee to come to Dahlonega a white merchant was seen playing cards the other day with a negro. This proves that they are being treated all right here. Don't it?

There was a wedding on the program here last Sunday but a short while before the time arrived the would be bride decided that she wanted to see her pa one more time before it occurred and left out, thus causing the wedding to be posponed to some other sweet day.

The board of education last Tuesday did one good thing if there were few in number. That was to raise the pay of teachers in this county two dollars per month in each grade—first grade now being $30 per month and the other two grades increased two dollars each as before stated.

One Jim Quinn, coaxed one of our girls off to Gainesville, promising to marry her, causing her parents a mountain of trouble. Hell is good for all such people and we hope that this scoundrel will get his reward soon. We would like to be an assistant long enough to help push up the chunks under this damniable fiends carcass.

MRS. E. W. STRICKLAND.

Conquering With Kindness.

In one of the eastern States there were two farmers who lived near neighbors, and whose farms were side by side. One of these farmers was a good man of gentle disposition and inoffensive character. The character of the other was just the reverse of this. His temper was like tinder, taking fire at every spark that came in his way. He hated his kind neighbor, more, perhaps, on account of his goodness than anything else. He was always vexing and tormenting the good man, quarrelling about mere trifles, as much as one can quarrel who has no one to quarrel whith him.

One summer he had mowed down a good deal of grass, and had gone away from home, leaving it out in the field to dry. But while he was absent, there came up a storm of rain. While the clouds were gathering, the pious man saw the exposed condition of his neighbor's hay, and it struck him that there was a fine chance to show a good man's revenge, that is, to return good for evil. So he took with him hired men, and got his neighbor's hay all safely into the barn. Let us see the result.

When the quarrelsome man came home, expecting to see his hay all soaked by the rain, and found it had been taken care of by the man he had so much injured. It cut him to the very core. From that hour the evil spirit was cast out of him. No more abuse did he give the good man after that; but he became as obliging and kind to his pious neighbor as the latter had been to him.

A very original parting between a husband and wife took place at the steamer's dock lately. The lady was about to make voyage to New York to spend her holidays with some relations there, while her husband stayed at home to work and supply her with the neccessary funds. After placing his wife on a Cunard liner the husband withdrew to the landing stage, and addressed a group of men who were loitering about in the following terms:

Which one of you would like to earn a couple of shillings?

2 or 3 answered in the affirmative, and the gentleman after selecting his man gave the following orders.

"You see that lady dressed in black, standing at the ship's side? Well that is my wife. She will expect me to stand for at least 20 minutes and wave my hankerchief to her until the ship is out of sight. You understand? I have no time to waste; my wife is very short-sighted, so it will do just as well if you take my place.

And if the lady looks through a telescope?

I have thought of that. Burry your face in your hankerchief as if overcome with emotion.

That will cost a half a crown extra.

All right. This is more valuable to me than money. Only do what I tell you. You may, if she looks through a telecope, throw in a few hand-kisses at, let us say, six-pence each.

The merchant thrust the money into the man's hand and, and hurriedly looking at his watch and departed.

To Stop Bleeding at the Nose.

The very best remedy is said to be a vigorous motion of the jaws by chewing something hard.

Saving Labor.

An Irishman took a contract to dig a well. When he had dug about twenty-five feet down, he came one morning and found it had fallen in, and that it was filled nearly the top. Pat looked cautiously around and saw that no person was near, then took off his coat and hat and hung them on the windlass, crawled into some bushes and awaited events. In a short time the neighbors discovered that the well had fallen in, and seeing Pat's hat and coat on the windless, they supposed he was at the bottom of the excavation. Only a few hours of brisk digging cleared the lose earth from the well. Just as the excavators had reached the bottom, and were wondering where the body was, Pat came out of the bushes, and good naturedly thanked the diggers for relieving him of a sorry job. Some of the tired diggers were disgusted, but the joke was too good to allow of anything more than a laugh, which promptly followed.

Big Burglar Proof Vault.

The great steel vault which cost $185,000 to construct, is 53 feet 6 inches wide, 38 feet 6 inches deep, 8 feet 6 inches high and is guarded by a circular door of steel 8 feet in diameter and 24 inches thick, weighing more than 40,000 pounds, has recently been completed in New York City. Although doubt has been expressed as to the existence of a really burglar proof safe, this steel vault is declared proof against fire, burglars and earthquakes. It will contain 16,000 safe deposits boxes and guard many millions of dollars in specie stocks and bonds.

A fraternal exchange contains the following pretty sentiment. People kiss their dead who never stoop to kiss their living; they hover over open caskets with hysterical sobe, but fail to throw the wealth of effection about those loved ones who are fighting the battles in life. How unheedingly we permit the opportunities for carrying sunshine into the lives of those we love to pass by. A word of cheer to a struggling soul in life is worth more than all the roses in Christendom piled high on casket covers. The dead can not smell the fragrance of the flowers, but the living can scatter them broadcast in their pathway, therefore, and pluck out the thorns. A welcome smile, a cherry "well done," an affectionate look will cause a rift to break in the lowering clouds and permit the glorious sunshine to gladden the lives of those you love.

Pension Commissioner Ware, who was at the capitol yesterday, is very much interested, as all new officials are, in his correspondence, says the Washington Post. One of the letters which he received yesterday amused him greatly. It was from a widow out in Illinois, and this is what she said:

"Dear Mr. Ware: I am trusting in the Lord to get my pension, but as I need the money, I do hope you will give a little help yourself."

The fact that the sculptor of the Jefferson Davis arch at Richmond is a Connecticut Yankee is considered by some of our contemporaries as an evidence that there is no sectionalism in art. Their comments on it at all, however, shows that the press is not altogether like art.—Augusta Chronicle.

North Georgia's Fortune.

BY PROF. WILBER COLVIN.

The following is largely the outgrowth of observations made in a recent drive through a part of this county, and of talks and discussions with members of the Botany class during several field excursions with the class during the last few weeks of the last college term. And it all appeals to me with special force, since I was reared on a farm, and was well trained in all kinds of practical agricultural and horticultural work, as my father was one of the most progressive and successful farmers in a country where expert farming was done. And that to in a climate not nearly so hospitable both as to temperate and as to rainfall as is enjoyed by North Georgia. Likewise I have been in nearly every state east of the Mississippi river—with my eyes open, and have observed what may be done with soil and conditions far less favorable than what we have all about us here.

Likely you have noticed how densely the ground is covered almost every where in this region with vegetation—how rapidly and rankly many kinds of weeds grow. Also how small a part of the ground is cultivated and made to yield any thing that is of use to man.

More than 80 per cent. of all the land of the ten or twelve counties of North East Georgia is not under cultivation. And the small part that is under cultivation is as a rule so indifferently cultivated as to secure but the poorest returns. The farmers, many of them, get but the humblest sort of a living from their work. I have sometimes remarked that if the farmers in the great middle states farmed their land as do many of the farmers here, they would starve to death. But, also, if the farmers here would tend the land as do the farmers in these other states, this North Georgia region would speedily become one of the richest sections of the country.

All this land is especially rich in lime and potash, two of the most essential soil elements to produce plants useful to man. The climate is neither too hot nor too cold. The rainfall is abundant and well distributed throughout the year. Nature's conditions are almost ideal Why don't the farmers do better?

The boys of the Botany class, many of them North Georgia boys, say that the people do not know how. That the son does as his father and grandfather did, and is in many cases indisposed to try any new plans lest he will become conspicious, will be talked about and considered a "crank" by his neighbors—and so the years come and go with scarcely any change in plans or manner of work. Is this the reason?—is it a sufficient reason?

But the boys testified also that if many of these farmers, especially the younger men, could see and know what could be done, and could have some practical progressive leaders, that many would soon begin to follow and to rapidly develop for themselves. Were these students correct?

This is not by nature a corn region. And yet what else do the farmers in general try to raise?

This is by nature a fruit and berry region. Strawberries if cultivated and properly cared for will flourish wonderfully and produce the best both as to quality and quantity. One acre in strawberries will yield from 150 to 200 bushels of berries per season, and even more have been produced. Any reasonably attentive farmer of Lumpkin county can do the same. And Georgia strawberries can always find a good market, as they come in the season about midway between those of Florida and the Middle and New England states.

Have you never observed how readily blackherries grow in this region, and how they bear? Just dig out a trench along a hill-side, and in a few years the bank is a blackberry thicket, these bushes even crowding out the weeds and brambles.

Suppose you should take a few acres of a hill-side, too steep for ordinary cultivation, dig down a series of terraces, making the soil two or three feet deep, and set out and give proper attention a good variety of blackberry bushes along these terrace banks. You know that in a couple of years you would have loads of blackberries. Why didn't you devote a few acres to this? This crop is ripe for picking soon after the strawberry crop.

Then if you want to lose no time between strawberry picking and blackberry time, put out a few acres of raspberries as suggested for the blackberry. These ripen between strawberry time and blackberry season, and will yield abundantly.

I spoke of digging the soil deep. This is essential for all kinds of plants. If those who want to raise corn would plow ten inches deep instead of three, they would harvest corn at about the same ratio of increase.

This region is unsurpassed for the raising of cherries, plums, quinces, pears and apples; and is only second to middle Georgia for peaches, and middle Georgia is not equaled anywhere else in the United States in this matter. It is likewise a superb grape country, and gooseberries flourish.

If on the more level lands the North Georgia farmer would raise cabbage, cantelopes, cucumbers, potatoes, celery and tomatoes—always properly preparing the ground, his returns would be most profitable.

But dig up the ground. Dig deep enough to make more soil constantly.

A story is told of a young man who had a farm, but was getting but little from it, and each year the income seemed to be growing less. One morning he found under his door a letter that said: There is a fortune in a certain field, designating it, on your farm. It is within two feet of the surface. Dig, and you will find it. He began and, dug and dug until he had overturned the uppermost two feet of every square yard of the large field. But he found no bag of gold as he had fondly hoped. He was not happy.

Again he found a letter under his door: Plant the field, tend it and be patient. He began to suspect—but did as he was told. The first crop brought him a fortune.

Many men of Lumpkin county have been digging up and turning over and over the earth hunting for a fortune. If as much work were done in digging up and preparing the soil to develop the best of plant life as has been done to hunt for gold, this region would bring in constantly an abundant gold producing harvest.

It was remarked the other day that if some of the big gold companies in the vicinity that own thousands of acres of land, had invested one-fourth as much in developing the soil as they have in trying to get gold, not only they would be reaping a much larger per cent. in their investments, but they would be of inestimably more service and value to this entire region of country.

Is it not so?

But says one, there is no market for what little surplus is raised now. Why raise more?

With the advent of the railroad there will be an outlet to good markets.

But there is also another way. Develop all, or a good portion of the land within five or seven miles of Dahlonega, and it would be a typical place for the location of a cannery to can for the market an unlimited supply of produce such as before mentioned; and by a reasonable distribution of these products there could be constant employment for all concerned during the major part of the year.

There is a fortune in this country, even among these red hills, for more reliable, constant and extensive than the yellow metal itself affords or will afford. And with the soil wisely tilled, the more there is gotten out of it, the richer it will be to keep on producing more. It is inexhaustable. Its veins will never "pinch out."

The Commissioner of Agriculture of Georgia in his last report gives numerous instances of what has been done in the way of production in Georgia. Here are a few of them.

400 crates of cabbage produced from one acre of ground, brought $1.35 per crate, or $540.

500 bushel of cucumbers were grown on one acre and sold for over $540.

$400 worth of beets were raised on one acre.

One acre of 3 year old grape vines yielded nearly $200.

Less than one acre yielded tomatoes that sold for $250 net profit.

One acre of potatoes realized a net profit of $140.

And these are not extreme cases. Also much of these are from lands that were, before cultivation, no better than much that is in our very midst.

But these lands have been worked and wisely worked until their productiveness is almost unlimited. And yet as to temperature and especially as to rainfall they are less favorably situated than the lands of North Georgia.

This region can be made a veritable garden spot, and likewise a region of gold returning harvest, almost without equal or rival.

Why not do it? Leadership, sympathetic leadership and unity and community of action would easily and speedily accomplish it.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, JULY 11, 1902.

Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O as Second Class Matter.

Official Organ of both City and County.

FOR GOVERNOR,

HON. J. M. TERRELL,

OF

MERIWETHER COUNTY.

Nine thousand freight handlers are out on a strike in Chicago.

No true democrat is going to cast his vote for an independent.

They had a big time in Atlanta last week celebrating the 4th. Atlanta never fails to keep up with the times on no occasion.

Col. Estill continues his "write ups" of the places, people and counties wherever he goes. Being defeated in the primary doesn't cause him to lose any interest in the state.

Blue Ridge, away up in the mountains where it was believed by many that they were safe from cyclones, was visited by a terrific storm last week doing much damage but killed no one.

Idaho, Nebraska and Kansas have been greatly damaged by recent rain storms. Twelve or fifteen houses near Hope, Idaho were washed away last week and in Kansas the harvest will be delayed by the rains.

Mr. Robert B. McClure, of Dawson county, has announced himself a candidate for the Senate from this district composing White, Lumpkin and Dawson counties subject to the democratic primary of that county which comes off in August.

The republicans of Lumpkin county got in some right good work during the recent democratic primary in the county. It is well enough for the democrats to keep their eyes on them all the time for they never cease working during a campaign.

The republicans of the state will soon convene in Atlanta but it is not believed that they will put out any candidates. In the first place there is no chance for a republican governor and no one, matters not how bad he wants office desires to start an up hill business like this.

We hoist at our masthead today the name of Hon. J. M. Terrell for governor of Georgia. He was elected at the recent democratic primary by a large majority over his opponents, Cols. Estill and Guerry. Col. Terrell is a safe man and if Georgia is not in a better financial condition when his term of office expires than it is to-day we will be very badly deceived.

On Monday last we saw a republican approach a man who has always been a democrat, soliciting him to run for sheriff. He came at him in a wool hat style in his shirt sleeves but wore a straw hat and with both hands waiving to and fro told him that they could certainly put him in. The democrat was an old ex-confederate soldier and we wondered if he had forgotton the time during the war when the yankees got thousands of negroes drunk and put them in the lead to endeavor to break the confederate ranks and the negroes were killed. Now this is the way with the republicans of this county. They can't break the democratic ranks themselves but are endeavoring to stimulate certain democrats with politics enough to cause them to try to break the ranks of the primary organization and if they get killed politically it will not injure them (the republicans) a particle. Should any of the so called independent democrats be successful then they will be told to take back seats in the future and the republicans will eat the pie in two years to come. We are not comparing the negroes with the whites only as an illustration.

Locals.

W. F. Worley left to-day to accept a position in the store of J. A. Smith at Gainesville.

Rev. Alfred Reid, who is well known to nearly everybody, here died a few days ago in Texas.

Messrs. C. D. Saunderson and W. P. Bolard, of Pennsylvania, were among the visitors here last week.

Jack Howell, of Nimblewill district, was bound over by Commissioner Baker this week charged with blockading.

Lumpkin county has been visited by several refreshing rains since our last issue which came in time to save the corn crop.

Prof. Yeates, state geologist came in last week and made another investigation of Lumpkin county's mineral resources.

Mr. J. A. Howard's time expired with Postmaster Tate as assistant on the 3rd inst. Mr. Henry Coffey has taken his place who will work part of his time in the Signal office.

By reference to our first page you will find that the N. G. A. College at this place is highly recommended by a northern paper as well as Governor Candler of Georgia.

The Methodist minister scored those who had been bathing at Cane Creek falls. He felt satisfied that boys and girls going out there and bathing together would lead to no good.

The other day when the revenue officers visited an illicit distillery they found it running but no one was on hand. The proprietors got wind of the officials appearance and made leg bail. This was in Chestatee.

Doubtless had the recent accident occurred at the telephone office at night the town would have been in ashes to-day. Operator Copeland said he was standing on the porch when the stroke of lightning came and upon entering the building found the switch board in flames.

Mrs. R. C. Thomson was carried to Atlanta last Friday for the purpose of having an operation performed for appendicitis. She was accompanied by her husband and Dr. H. C. Whelchel who have returned and state that the lady stood the operation remarkably well and is doing fine.

The other day a swarm of bees appeared at tax receiver Healand's and would have settled on his little girl in the garden had she not run. After the little girl left they settled on some small willow sprigs and were soon given a home. This is about as good a call as Elijah had by the ravens; for most everybody loves honey even if all can't keep any brandy.

Gen. Warner and his lady returned from their two weeks trip to the east last week. No doubt the General will have some good railroad news for you when the proper time comes to tell it. Have patience. Things are moving along as easy and quiet as a bycycle in the sand, and you must not expect so much work accomplished in a day or week.

Work on the power plant of the Gainesville and Dahlonega Electric Railroad Co., on the Chestatee river is moving up with a vim. Twenty-five extra hands were added to the already big list of laborers last week so as to complete it and have it in running order in a very short time from now. The machinery is being delivered on the ground, and every thing down that way certainly presents a business like appearance this favorable weather.

Mr. R. L. Sosebee aged 25 years, died yesterday morning at 5 o'clock at his home in the Fork district. He had been ill for some time from consumption. Mr. Sosebee was a young man of exemplary life, a brother of L. P. Sosebee, who is with the G. & D. E. R. R. The funeral will occur this afternoon, 3 o'clock, at Antioch church. Rev. J. A. Wynne conducted the burial services.—Eagle. Mr. Sosebee used to go to college at Dahlonega and always conducted himself in a manner as to gain friends wherever he went.

The stock law election in White county went "for fence" recently.

War taxes are gone, yet we have other means of remembering the Mayne, says the Macon Telegraph.

The recent gubernatorial convention in Atlanta ignored the temperance question which we admire.

Now that congress has adjourned members of that body will have to quarrel and fight at their own expense.

Three white men and two negroes were killed, another white man and a negro seriously injured last Monday at Offerman, Ga., by a bolt of lightning.

Dr. Broughton of Atlanta, owing to his remarks about the secret orders has caused him to lose his grip and will soon be numbered with last years mushrooms.

S. C. Jenkins, an Atlanta lawyer, republican, is going to try Col. Livingston of that district for congress. If Mr. Jenkins wants to see Washington City he had better try some other plan.

This wise remark is made by a Madisonian: When a farmer buys a thing he can produce at home he is out just the price of the article. The first duty of the farmer is to produce everything he needs as far as possible. Then he is well able to buy the things he wants, and cannot produce on the farm.

A merchant down in Arkansas refuses to advertise, because he says if he does somebody will be "a pesterin' me all of the time to show 'em goods." He is the same man who when a customer came in and wanted a suit of clothes, asked him to come back "when I am standin' up." This may be a lie, but there is a moral to it. —Exchange.

John Henderson, son of J. W. Henderson, of Kimsey, was struck and instantly killed by lightning at his home at Mt. Airy last Wednesday evening about 6 o'clock while out knocking apples from trees with a pole. His wife who was standing near was shocked so bad that she lay unconscious for some time and is still in a very dangerous condition. John had many friends and relatives in this county who regret to hear of his sad death.—Cleveland Courier.

Give us equal rights cries the negro in Cuba, and we hear the same cry in our own beloved country. If the negro would go to work with a vim instead of doing so much talking, he would get his rights in the good old sunny south. We don't know what the negro means by equal rights. They can build factories, carry on all kinds of business in the business world, and what more could he ask? If it is equal rights socially, the negro is asking for, he had just as well cry for the moon.—Acworth Post.

Chiggars or red bugs broke up a recent commencement exercise for a Wisconsin university. Over 400 students were afflicted with them. We can emagine a knock-kneed, wall-eyed youth attempting to recite "The Boy Stood on the burning Deck Scratching Chiggars by the Peck," or a beribboned girl regaling the audience with her essay on "Spring," as she reaches under her apron string to mash one of the pesky little mites gnawing at her ribs. It must have been a grabfast, indeed.—Dalton Citizen.

In some Georgia cities white men sell their votes openly and disgracefully just as if there was no law against it. And still we are crying out all the time against the negro and want him disfranchised for doing that very thing. The Gazette wants to again be placed as favoring disfranschisement of both white and black for selling their votes. The penitentiary is the place for them as they are two of a kind.—Darien Gazette. Yes, this is right. We know of a man in Dahlonega who sold his vote for a pound of coffe and a nickels worth of tobacco once.

Hon. F. C. Tate was nominated for congress at Gainesville last week. Hon W. A. Charters was elected chairman of the congressional democratic committee of the ninth district to succeed John W. Henley.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, JULY 11, 1902.

Several legal notices in this issue. Read them.

Mrs. Thomson, of Toledo, is here on a visit to her son Mr. R. C. Thomson.

Prof. J. M. Martin, principal of the public school of this place has returned after an absence of two weeks or more down at his old home, Perry, Ga.

The telephone office at this place was slightly crippled by a bolt of lightning last Monday, rendering it inconvenient to parties having pressing business for the same a short while.

J. M. Calhoun killed a crane the other day which measured six feet and five inches from one tip of the wing to the other and five feet and three and a half inches from the end of its bill to its toes.

Col. Geo. K. Looper, of Gainesville, Ga., who is well known to many of our citizens was up on business last Tuesday looking about like he used to be when here many years ago except his beard is turning a little white.

Uncle Peter Garret who works for the Consolidated Co., during the storm of last Monday when the trees began to fall around him took refuge in a tunnel and offered up a prayer that could be heard for some distance. The wind soon ceased and Mr. Garret came out from his place of refuge unharmed.

A number of negro waiters and their sweethearts came down from Porter Springs Sunday night and took in the sights of Dahlonega by star light. They arrived at about 12 o'clock and remained about an hour all behaving very nicely. The water power for the gas lights were off and the appearance of all these negroes on the public square caused a very dark time during their stay.

Mrs. Haines, of Savannah, Ga., after remaining a few days at the Tate House left this week for Toccoa Falls for a short time and when the lady returns to Dahlonega shortly she will be joined by several of her relatives. Summer visitors who come to Dahlonega and remain long enough to be benefitted by our most healthy climate are always sure to return again and bring others.

The assessing board of the city of Dahlonega has completed its work and it is with pleasure we are able to state that the taxable property of the town has increased considerably and the city taxes will not be so high as was expected before the completion of this labor. The amount of taxable property for 1901 was $412,345 and the sum this year reaches $416,815, being an increase over last year of $4,470. The assessment will be made later on.

The city council met last Monday evening with Mayer protem Jones in the chair and transacted such business as came before it. The following accounts were ordered paid, to-wit: J. E. McGee, $22.55. J. E. Anderson, 45 cents; R. H. Baker, $2.70; W. J. Worley, $6.00. The marshal made his report which showed that he had collected and paid in on different funds $185.48 for the month of June. No other business of importance transacted.

A man named Lunsford, acting in the capacity of a preacher, appeared on our streets last Monday and soon attracted a large crowd of curious people. He did very well for a while but as soon as he remarked that he married a woman having six children by different men the curtain fell and the man made his way down the Auraria road after taking a lunch carried him by little Ray Meaders who believed the man to be hungry and in distress, not being old enough to know better. It is the first services held in Dahlonega for a long time without the contribution basket or hat being passed around.

The ten days or nights meetings held at the Baptist church will soon come to a close.

Two blockaders losing a gallon of liquor hid out near here Saturday night, were very much disappointed in going back and finding it gone.

For the next 50 days I will sell goods at greatly reduced prices, to avoid moving them. Special prices on shoes and dry goods. Come and see what I have.

8t J. H. McKee.

There is a strange sow down at Wimpy's mill which Mr. Phillips would like for the owner to come after. Marked as follows: Hole in left ear and swallow fork in right.

Another lot of splendid stationery just received from Cincinnati, Ohio. So don't forget that we are now ready to wait on all needing first class job work done upon short notice and at reasonable prices.

Julius Roberts was fined $2 and cost by Mayor Baker last Monday for imbibing too freely in mountain juice the night previous. Julius is a quiet young man usually but the mean stimulants sold here on Sundays frequently cause trouble.

We understand that an agreement has been reached with the town and country people for the latter to bathe in any way they see proper on Saturday and Sunday at the falls, as no ladies will appear on these days. This will keep down trouble we hope in the future.

Last Monday while it rained only a light shower at Dahlonega up about Cane Creek Falls three miles distant, it hailed and soon covered the ground white doing some damage to the growing crop. The roar of the storm could be plainly heard in Dahlonega and at one time we believed it was the approach of a cyclone.

See notice elsewhere of change in the firm of J. F. Moore, to be hereafter known as J. F. Moore & Co. Mr. T. F. Jackson who has been Mr. Moore's bookkeeper for many years is now one of the firm. Business will still continue at the same old stand where goods of all kinds can be found at living prices.

J. F. Moore has purchased Judge Murray's interest in Cane Creek falls three miles from Dahlonega lately, who has been engaged this week with a surveyor getting heights with a view of developing this magnificent water power at an early day, which will be of great benefit to Dahlonega if the scheme is carried out now on foot, particulars of which will be given you later.

If some of our ministers would preach the "old time religion" and let politics alone and use less sarcasm and criticism, trying to imitate Sam Jones, we believe that they would have better success with their churches. People can't be driven to church and made to get religion, especially when they expect to hear nearly everybody abused. Really if preachers were paid for what they accomplish only there would be less of this, fewer preachers but better ones.

Bailiff Carroll last Monday levying on Bob Cox's household and kitching furniture, which his wife was moving off to the marble works, collected all the negroes in town nearly, after a portion of the things were unloaded on the side of Clarkesville street where they remained for hours surrounded by his sympathizers. Bob, before he left got in debt to nearly every merchant in town and they were wanting their money, was the cause of this delay till she paid off the debts by scheduling. Such as this is one reason why goods are so high and poor people having no reputation are refused credit some times when they are responsible and honest. This schedule law was said to be in favor of the widow women, but few ever take advantage of it and it should be repealed.

Col. Charters went down to Warm Springs last week.

Mrs. W. S. Wilson of Baltimore, is here to spend the summer.

James Witt, Jr., left out to join his father at McCay, Tenn., this week.

Our friend Mr. R. L. Bryson has connected himself with the Signal so we learn.

Prof. Vickery and lady have gone down to Hartwell to spend a short time.

Mr. R. C. Thomson will return to the north after his wife gets well and she wants to go. Not otherwise.

The stringing of the wires on the Electric Railroad from Gainesville will commence first of next month, says Gen. Warner.

Mr. P. A. Abbott requests us to state that school will begin next Monday morning at the Ashley school house at 8 a. m.

Some are talking about local taxation for schools. Lumpkin county has got as much taxes already as she can stand.

The postoffice closing and a few sand crackers exploded by little children were the only things occurring here to remind us that it was the fourth of July.

A strange steer, yearling, cloudy color with no mark has been over at J. A. Stepps for about four weeks, and the owner is requested to come and get it at once.

Mr. V. R. Hix went down near New Bridge in Hall county to open out his school. He is a young man of good qualifications and always gives satisfaction.

The delegates and other parties attending the gubernatorial convention all returned right side up with care, although it was so hot in Atlanta that they couldn't be comfortable and pleasant by any means, notwithstanding some of the Atlanta papers would lead you to believe that they have frost there during the summer months.

Just think what a healthy country we have here. Mr. Henry Davis, residing near Atlanta, came to this county to see if it wouldn't improve his health. He was in the NUGGET office last Saturday looking well and healthy and showed us some of his beard that turned black since being here only a few months, and besides this the hair is growing out on his head where it was perfectly naked before he came up.

Mr. Oliver of Gainesville was up last week repairing the telephone office recently injured by lightning. On his way from Cleveland aftar dark when he got to the river it roared so after the rain that he decided that it was dangerous and to avoid any accident put a cushion under his head and slept in his vehicle on the banks of the stream until day. Had it been a printer it would have been claimed that he was "tanked up."

Deputy Collector Richardson and Deputy Marshal Grizzle have been very successful during their last trip in the mountains, having destroyed several illicit distilleries. During their trip last week they caught Geo. Gaddis, while he and his partner were playing cards and keeping the "pot bilng." The other fellow got away. Gaddis is the son of the man Stringer killed in this county several years ago.

There is no dependance to be put in many of the Newspaper Directories. Take for instance J. C. Ayer & Co's. It has the Signal's circulation at a little over 500 and nothing for the NUGGET, showing that a great deal of it is only guess work. They have the nearest bank to Dahlonega in Gainesville, when Dahlonega has had a bank here for a year or more, which is now a national bank. We have no confidence in these directories is the reason we pay no attention to them. We can say this without contradiction: The NUGGET has much the largest circulation of any paper published in the county. The post office records will show this.

Marshal Grizzle seized a still last Tuesday up at Yonah Mountain in White county.

Dr. Smith of New Bridge, was among the several citizens here from that place last Tuesday.

The little child of Mr. William Rickets died at this place Wednesday night of whooping cough.

Mr. F. V. Moose, one of Lumpkin county's best miners, left this week for Monroe county, Ala., where he goes to prospect mineral property owned by a company in that section.

Little Ray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Meaders, four and a half years old, can sew better than many grown married women. This should be remembered by parents raising up girls hereafter. All girls should understand how to use the needle whether they are compelled to do so when they get grown or not.

The other day just as a certain married woman was holding a lad's head fixing to kiss him she saw us and jumped back like she was shot. We will say for the benefit of the ladies wanting a kiss this bad if they will send for us we will do the job up nicely. Then it will give some of the ministers who can't preach something to talk about.

It wouldn't do for those ladies of Atlanta who a few days ago raised an objection because some men across the street on a hotel porch were sitting in their shirt sleeves, to come to Dahlonega, because the most of us go without coats in the summer time here and sometimes are minus a pants leg or two with untied shoes and no socks. Yet there is no blushing or timidity caused about it in Dahlonega. Comfort before style all the time.

Quite a number of citizens of New Bridge, Ga., were in the city last Monday interested in the case of A. S. Whelchel vs. The North Georgia Electric Co., for damages, giving their evidence to be presented to the court. Col. Lilly of Dahlonega, represented the Co., and Col. Geo. K. Looper, of Gainesville looked after the interest of Mr. Whelchel. This suit was brought about by the building of the company's big dam a short distance above where Mr. Whelchel has a grist mill on the Chestatee river.

Mr. Frank Whelchel, of New Bridge, was among the citizens of that place here Tuesday. He, Mr. Jeff Whelchel and Mrs. Crenshaw, have just returned from a months visit to Mr. Warren Whelchels in Oklahoma Territory, who went from this section only a few years ago and has become rich. Mr. Whelchel says Oklahoma is the best country in the world. But even this doesn't induce us to go there for we wouldn't swap Lumpkin county for no place in the west. There are as poor men in the west and other places as some in this country and men have come to this section and become rich. Capt. F. W. Hall came to Dahlonega from the north and by his energy and vim soon owned his thousands, and others we could mention.

These goods guaranteed fresh: Quaker Oats, Force, Grape Nuts, Postum Cereal, Co Coa, Lipton's tea in one fourth lb. tins, English Breakfast, and Gunpowder, all grades of roasted and green coffee, rice, grits, Eagle brand milk, Tuxedo corn and peas, Robert E. Lee salmon, corn starch, tomatoes, Bakers chocolate, Shred Cocoomsh, all kinds of spices and extracts, Royal, Rumford, Goodluck and Farm Bell baking powders, lemon, soda and snow flake crackers, a fresh line of Heinzs' goods, Fairbank, Ark and Ivory soaps, also a nice line of toilet soaps, brooms from 25 to 40 cents, lunch, clothes and fruit baskets, sugar and flour bins, tooth picks, hair, clothes, shaving and tooth brushes. And remember our prices on dry goods, notions, shoes, hats, etc., etc., have been reduced. Come to see us and we will show you a nice, clean stock of high grade goods at low prices. PRICE & REESE.

Mining Notes.

Mr. J. P. Stegall, of Emmerson, Ga., who owns a valuable gold mine near Auraria, in this county is getting out a prospectus.

Prospecting still continues on the Rutherford lot. Nine different gold bearing leads have been opened up and Mr. McAfee has some beautiful specimens.

Although we have had some rain in this county it will take much more to do the mining operations any good, having been dry so long that the ground absorbs the water almost like a sponge.

The work of repairing the long tubes on the Hand canal was completed Wednesday morning and the water passed through them at 5 o'clock the same afternoon and likely by this time is at the big mill.

Mr. Breyman, of the Consolidated Co., who has been expected here for some time, we learn will not be down for a week or ten days yet. In the near future a committee, representing the interests of the company is also expected.

Mr. Maxwell is still taking out ore at the Ivey chute. At every blast the vein shows up better and large pieces of gold stick to the black rock causing it to be beautiful as well as valuable. Mr. Maxwell's other several mining operations are moving along as usual.

Four different parties are taking out ore at as many veins on the Standard property. They are natives, practical miners and understand their business. Some of the veins are richer than the others but putting it on an average the ore of these veins are worth about $10 per ton.

Mr. Maxwell still continues his operations down at the Lockhart. The results are very satisfactory and if the owners of this as well as other properties being operated by this gentleman, give longer leases than from one to three months it would add greatly to the benefit of both operators and owners.

A letter received from Cavender's creek states that mining operations have been compelled to close down there on account of the drouth. The canal contemplated being dug by the company will have to be done before they will be able to do much of a dry season. Matters not how rich a gold mine persons may possess it is worthless without water to work it.

Work still continues at the Boley Fields by parties in search of that noted rich vein worked many years ago and afterwards lost. The old works have been cleaned out and blasting commenced some days ago. A little gold was found the other day which leads them to believe that they are on the right streak. Uncle Wash Adams who worked the rich chute in the long ago feels confident that he can find it again.

Some weeks ago Capt. Ingersoll informed us that the water was so low in the Chestatee river that they were unable to get the Breyman boat above some shoals until it rained. Some infered probably that it would have to suspend operation and a party stated to us that it had, but we are glad to learn from a letter received from Mr. W. C. Keenum, superintendent, that the boat has not had to stop a day in four months, making money all the time.

Jim Whitmire was telling us the other day about milling 4 or 5 tons of ore recently and getting 40 pennyweights of gold out of the batteries and nothing from the plates, the loss being caused by grease getting on the plates in a former run down of some waste matter where the hands had thrown meat skins and other greasy matter while eating their dinners. We mention this fact for the benefit of that "great western mill man," while here in charge of a mill a few months ago who stated to us that "a little gold on the plates didn't amount to anything."

The development work of the iron mines belonging to the Consolidated Company in this county by Capt. Ingersoll is completed with very flattering results. It was not known that Lumpkin county contained iron or manganese until some years ago. A test was made and large beds were found. A later investigation was made and proved that a continuous belt of thirteen miles of magnetic ore of the very best grade lay within the borders of Lumpkin county. A test was made by Prof. Dodson, a distinguished assayer and chemist of this ore which proved to contain 68 per cent metallic iron. Mr. Wylie, of Atlanta, who owned an interest in some of the lots at that time, had a sample of the ore sent to Alabama for a test which was of such satisfaction as to cause him to remark that he wouldn't take $50,000 for his interest alone in it if there was a railroad to Dahlonega. An effort was made to build a railroad to this place at that time but its promoters failed in the enterprise and no more interest was taken in the iron mines until recently, for without a railroad iron mines are worthless. Since the construction of the Gainesville and Dahlonega Electric Railway has commenced renewed interest has been taken in the iron, causing the lands containing this valuable mineral, with railroad facilities, belonging to the Consolidated Co. to be undergoing development now. Capt. Ingersoll informs us that the hemetite beds are large. On the manganese lead he has gone down at five different places, to a depth of 20 feet at one place and 25 at another, and it continues large and better than when first opened. Prof. Yeates, state geologist, while in Dahlonega last week examined some of the ore and pronounced it good. When first discovered Prof. Dodson made an assay of the ore at various places and made a report, giving its values at various places in the county which we would be pleased to give could we put our hands on the pamphlet now. The Consolidated now has two miles of the lead opened up. Others possessing iron property should do likewise and help show to the outside world what valuable minerals Lumpkin county contains.

The Teachers Institute.

The Teachers Institute of Lumpkin county convened in the court house last Monday morning at 10 o'clock. It was called to order by County Commissioner J. J. Seabolt and prayer was offered by Mr. Urben Bowen.

Col. Price, president of the board of education, gave a short talk about the necessity of teachers attending Institutes in the county where they teach and at the close of his remarks gave the Institute work to Prof. Wilber Colyin who had been elected expert of the occasion and in a short speech laid his plans of work before the teachers, dealing principally with subjects of moral development.

The Institute then chose Mr. Carl Shultz as its secretary. Then the roll was called and the following teachers found to be present: P. L. Abbot, W. L. Bryson, M. W. Bowen, Urben Bowen, Miss Lula Higgins, Miss Mattie Higgins, C. A. Jarrard, J. L. Lunsford, B. T. Montgomery, H. E. Nelson, Carl Shultz, Miss Ruth Whelchel, Miss Oma Whelchel, U. V. Anderson, and in the afternoon W. D. Seabolt and M. L. Seabolt were added to the list.

A very interesting program is being carried out by the teachers, lawyers, preachers, and other citizens of the town, endeavoring to make it as beneficial to those who are leading the young ideas how to shoot as possible. But while this is going on the schools are suspended and children all idle and our opinion is these Institutes should be repealed at the first sitting of the legislature. Have none but first grade teachers, then the time could be employed in teaching the children instead of the teachers. We would have published the program but no interest was taken in it last year and we didn't suppose many would this. It is compulsory for all teachers to attend these institutes, yet out of thirty or more in the county only seventeen were present, showing that they had rather risk being fined than to attend.

How About Your Heart

Feel your pulse a few minutes. Is it regular? Are you short of breath, after slight exertion as going up stairs, sweeping, walking, etc? Do you have pain in left breast, side or between shoulder blades, choking sensations, fainting or smothering spells, inability to lie on left side? If you have any of these symptoms you certainly have a weak heart, and should immediately take

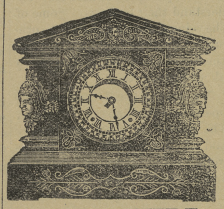

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure

Mr. F. H. Oaks of Jamestown, N. Y., whose genial face appears above, says: "Excessive use of tobacco seriously affected my heart. I suffered severe pains about the heart, and in the left shoulder and side; while the palpitation would awaken me from my sleep. I began taking Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and soon found permanent relief."

Was He Homeless?

"Foxes have holes, and the birds of the air have nests, but the Son of man hath not where to lay his head."

This scripture is often quoted by persons who glory in their poverty, who love to sing. No foot of land of land do I possess, no cottage in this wilderness," believing they are in that respect like him. But may it not mean that the world was his home; that Jesus was so emancipated from self, that he claimed for himself personally no abiding place? His spirit of universal brotherhood embracing all homes, and love of others overwhelming all desires for his own individual self substituting universal love knows of no self.

Becoming citizens of the grand universe "robs us of a country and a home."

Jesus had many personal friends who always felt honored by his presence under their roof and no doubt had no lack of the objective accessories of home. All external necessities comprising home in a worldly and material sense at his command. But this was not what he sought. His own personal interest was swallowed up in his zeal for the welfare of others. He came not to do his own will but the will of him that sent him. In what a heart-breaking tone he exclaimed, "O, Jerusalem! How would I have gathered you as a hen gathers her brood under her and ye would not!"

A table may be spread with palatable food but the persons to be benefitted must be partakers of the same. Not even Jesus Christ who eat food to nourish another. He could provide all that was needful and cry, "Come unto me all ye who hunger and thirst," but he did not compel them to eat, drink and be filled. It was spiritual food he had to give, as well as multiplying the loaves and fishes. It was the water of life that he offered; as wine for the wedding feast. And down to the present day are the words still potent: "Blessed are they which do hunger and thirst after righteouness, for they shall be filled."—Selected.

Represented Largest House in The World.

The Right Rev. Thomas Underwood Dudly, of Kentucky, one of the eminent bishops in the Episcopalian church, enjoys a good story as if he did not wear the cloth. He tells one on himself:

A number of years ago he was going by train to one of the smaller towns of his diocese to hold services. As he was enjoying a cigar in the smokes, and up on the seat facing him was a very large valise, containing his clerical vestments.

A drummer sitting back of him, noticing his jaunty traveling cap, leaned forward and enquired:

"Traveling man, eh?"

"Yes, answered the bishop.

"What house d'ye represent?"

"The biggest house in the world."

"Shillito's?" (the largest house in Cincinnati) asked the drummer.

"Bigger than that."

"Marshall Field?"

"Bigger than that."

"A. T. Stewart's?"

"Bigger yet."

"Well what house is it? Those are the best I know."

"I represent sir," said the bishop impressively, "the house of God."

The salesman gave a gasp then glancing at the mammoth valise, exclaimed:

"Well, all I've got to say is, you carry a pretty full line of samples."

The somewhat unbelievable news comes from the Klondike that two petrified ships have been found near the head waters of the Porcupine. Each of the ships is described as about one hundred feet long, and of ancient origin, being built like the old viking vessels. The ships are now 4000 feet above the sea level.

The Boy Who Deceived His Teacher.

The boy who used to boast of getting the best of his teacher has been heard from. The same traits of character which tempted him to deceive his teacher into believing that he had solved his problems and completed his tasks himself, led him to cheat his employer to idle whenever his back, until he finally lost his position.

His lack of education—the result of cheating his teacher—has proved a perpetual handicap, and has lost him many a good situation. His dishonesty which started in the school room, has grown until nobody will trust him, and he has no credit or standing in his community.

As a boy, he thought himself clever in being able to dodge his lessons and impose upon his teacher; but he realizes now that he was the person cheated.

In those precious days of youth, himself of pearls of great value which he will never be able to recover.

The thief of time and opportunity often thinks he is enriching himself, but he awakes one day to the truth that he is poorer and meaner for the theft.—Success.

Speaking of air ships and flying machines reminds us of an anecdote of an old negro and a flying machine. The machine was passing a field where an old negro was picking cotton and as something had gone wrong with the machine the owner decided he would land to fix it. When the old negro saw it settling to the earth he thought it was his Savior coming again, and as he didn't have time to run he decided to make the best of it he could. So when the owner stepped out of his machine the old negro grabbed his hand, gave it a violent shake and said: "How you do, Marse Jesus; how is yo pa."—Selected..

An exchange truthfully says: "When we sell our paper we shall take to running a church paper. Everybody in the church works for subscriptions for the church paper. The preachers from the pulpit urge the people to subscribe, and we never hear of a preacher advising anybody to take this paper. We hold that the church papers have the best of the deal. Furthermore nobody ever objects to anything that is printed in the church paper. Not a week goes by that there are not a great many people mad at this paper, and yet it is the purpose of the paper to hurt no body's feelings."

Here is the meanest story ever reported: A Tampa man lay sick, and the neighbors sent in so many good things that when he recovered, his wife wouldn't let the neighbors know, but kept him locked up two weeks longer that she might continue to get ices, puddings, fruits, etc., for herself and the children.—Tampa Tribune.

N. G. A. College, Dahlonega, Ga.

In response to a number of recent enquiries from parties asking:

"Where can I place my son (or daughter) so that he (or she) may receive a good education and yet without any great expense?"

The United States Trade Reports, in a recent issue of that widely circulated paper says:—

"Realizing the importance of the subject and the confidence that would be reposed in our answer and recommendation we have made a careful investigation of the standing and character of all the leading educational institutions, and, with due respect to many that offer good advantages, we must concede our preference for the North Georgia Agricultural College, at Dahlonega, Ga. This college is conducted on the co-education of sexes plan, and it offers exceptional advantages, and at prices especially arranged for students of limited means.

"The courses of study are broad and liberal and embrace every requirement of modern education, refinement and culture. The faculty is composed of instructors especially qualified in theory and practice to teach, and one of the features of the work in this college is the attention bestowed upon the individual education of the pupils.

"The buildings occupied are large and commodious and every facility and convenience is provided for the pupils. The living apartments are neatly furnished, while the table menu is selected and prepared from the best of country produce.

"The laboratories, library and recitation rooms are provided with every essential requisite to the proper study and explanations of the lessons taught. Military discipline prevails at the college, and its entire tone and influence, moral, social, religious, educational and physical is all that could be asked by any parent solicitous for the welfare of his child, while the climate in which Dahlonega, Ga., is situated is always of a character that is invigorating and healthful to the best degrees.

"Therefore in view of these carefully ascertained facts we have not the slightest hesitancy in recommending the North Georgia Agricultural College to those who have requested this information, to whom we would respectfully suggest that for further and detailed information regarding this model college and its most admirable system and method of education, they write its President, Joseph S. Stewart, A. M."

"The North Georgia Agricultural College is prosperous, and is doing a work unsurpassed perhaps in importance and value by any other institution of learning in the South."—From Governor Candler's Message to General Assembly.

A WINGED CRIMINAL.

One of the Possibility of the Future Aerial Navigation.

"In looking over a New York paper recently I noticed that Edison said humanity ought to be ashamed of itself for having solved the problem of aerial navigation," said an observant citizen; "and I guess Edison must be right about it. It would seem that an age of such marvelous achievements along other lines ought to have solved this interesting and important problem. Can't we do as much as the birds? But I was thinking of the many possibilities which are wrapped up in this problem, and when we come to think of it the sudden solution of the problem, while it would be of great benefit to humanity, would bring into existence a fair quota of embarrassments. It would change the whole aspect of the situation in many respects. There would no doubt be balloon elopements, and hot pursuits through the air and occasionally the fellow who was making away with some other fellow's girl would find himself dropped toward the earth at a rather rapid rate. Or, if he should happen to be on wings, according to some of the contrivances which have been devised, he might lose a feather and fall just the same.

"But really, there is a more serious way of looking at the possibilities of the flying machine. Take the criminal classes, for instance. What would hinder the safe blower, the burglar and the murderer from sailing out into the air after the commission of a desperate offense? If they used balloons they could simply cut the lines and be gone in a jiffy. If they used any other appliance the result would be the same. They would simply float out into the open air. Policemen would have to wear balloons, else they would have to be provided with wings, a rather incongruous thing, when we come to think of it. Yet a policeman with wings may be one of the things of the future, if inventive genius ever succeeds in solving the problem of aerial navigation. There will be no other way for the minions of the law to pursue the men who commit all kinds of acts against the written law. Many embarrassments might come up, when we come to think of it, in connection with the problem of aerial navigation."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

A traveling dime museum went to pieces in Sioux City two weeks ago. The manager and freaks boarded at the Park Hotel, and owed a bill of $32. They had no money, but told the land-lord that he could keep the fat woman, a negro girl weighing 615 pounds, as a hostage, while they went out and hustled for the money. They must be still hustling, for the landlord has heard nothing from them. Meanwhile he is feeding the fat negress, who, he says, eats as much as two day laborers. He is beginning to feat he has been tricked.

Facts.

Does a merchant deserve your trade unless he asks for it through the colums of the newspaper that you read every week? There are some merchants in this town that think we ought to get up a real good paper fifty-two weeks in the year, give them a few free puffs, do our best to get people to come from other towns, territory, say nothing about their dog-gone meaness; but tell all about every little charitable act they do, keep every thing clean and pure in our reading columns, say some real sweet things about them in every issue and they would patronize us by subscribing for the paper.

Advertise your business in paper! why no. It would't pay us, we'll have you to print us a few circurlars after while when the farmers get a little cash on hand, but advertising would not pay us now. You know the farmers are trading now nearly altogether with the big merchants on a credit. Now Mr. Farmer and Post reader, listen at what we say, it will doubtly pay you to trade with the advertisers. You never heard of a man succeeding in the mercantile business that didn't advertise. Look at the past, who has succeeded, the advertisor or the drone? Do you want to buy goods from the dead merchant or one hat is dying? If so, trade with the man that doesn't believe in advertising and you will hit it every time. On the other hand if you want to buy your goods of the up-to-date merchants watch your paper and trade with the man that asks you through your paper, no matter where you live, it will you every time.—Acworth Post.

Natural History.

A whale can remain under water for an hour and a half.

A lion in a jungle will jump twenty-five or thirty feet from a standing start.

A horsefly will live for hours after its head has been pulled off. The head of the mosquito hawk will continue eating its victim when separted from the thorax.

Mud wasps manitest great ingenuity not only in building their nests, but in placing them in localities where they will not be injured by rain or predacious animals.

The gray buzzard is said to be the heaviest bird that flies, the young male when food is plentiful weighing nearly forty pounds. The bird is nearly extinct.

The wasp, like the bee and almost every other insect, is infested with parasites. Wasps have been captured which had two or three dozen parasites clinging to their bodies.

The alligator never leaves fresh water, while the crocodile often goes to sea and in the West Indies has sometimes been found many miles from land, heading directly for an island possibly out of sight.

Woman Lovely Woman.

According to palmistry a woman with a long thumb will do her best to have her own way. So will every other woman.

It was an all wise providence that created woman after everything else had been finished; otherwise she would have wanted to boss the job.

A woman can talk as sweet as peaches and cream to another woman she hates. Men would punch each others heads.

A woman can come to conclusion without the slightest trouble of reasoning it out—and a sane man can't do that.

Woman loves man and the dear fellow can't help it; she bosses him and the old fool don't know it.

Woman always wants to be sure of the last word. That's why she looks at the end of a novel first.

A woman can drive a man crazy for twenty four hours, and then bring him to the gates of paridise in two seconds by simply tickling him under the chin.

Eve was invited to an apple gathering and discovered she had nothing to wear. It has been the same with the sex ever since.

What His Mother Would Do.

A teacher in a boarding school the other day was "showing off" her pupils before a number of visitors.

During the spelling lesson one small redhaired boy was given the word "introdution." He paused, twisted his lips, stared and then in a faltering way spelled it correctly, and was apparently very surprised when he discovered that he had done it.

"Do you know what that word means?" asked the teacher.

"No, miss."

"Well, now I'll explain it to you. Does your mother ever have visitors."

"Yes, miss."

"Well, now, suppose that two women came to call on your mother. Your mother knows one of the women, but doesn't know the other. She has never seen the woman, and doesn't even know her name. Now, how would she become accquainted with this woman and find out her name?"

"She'd send for a pot of beer!"

As that was probably the correct answer, the teacher had nothing further to say.—Stray Stories.

Feeding Elephants in India.

Elephants in the Indian army are fed twice a day. When meals time arrives they are drawn up in lines before a row or piles of food. Each animal's breakfast includes ten pounds of raw rice, done up in five two pound packages. The rice is wrapped in leaves and then tied with grass. At the command "Attention!" each elephant raises its trunk and a package is thrown into its capacious mouth. By this method of feeding not a single grain of rice is wasted.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, JULY 18, 1902.

Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O as Second Class Matter.

Official Organ of both City and County.

FOR GOVERNOR,

HON. J. M. TERRELL,

OF

MERIWETHER COUNTY.

It seems that the Atlanta depot was only a dream.

Now that Atlanta can't get a new depot the city council is going to build a $10,000 stable.

Col. Bill Findley is a candidate for the legislature from Hall county and we hope he will be successful.

A ton of honey was recently shipped from Terrell county, Georgia, where beekeeping has become a very profitable industry.

The spread of the cholera at Manilla has slightly decreased. The total since the outbreak are: 2,181 cases 1,718 deaths at; Province 12,476 cases and 9,358 deaths.

Querry: - What are the politics of the Dahlonega Signal? There are four parties connected with it now. Capt. Woodward, the proprietor, is a populist; Col. Bryson, a prohibitionist-democrat; Mr. Coffey a republican and Little Billy nothing.

The officers at the recent association held in Atlanta decided to ask the next legislature for a four years term. This is a good move and ought to become a law. The ordinaries are elected for four years and it works well and satisfactory. Now why not try the others?

Rev. D. J. Burt is also a candidate for the senate from this district subject to the democratic primary to be held in Dawson county next month. As it is that county's time to select the candidate we will not meddle but promise to support the man selected by the democratic primary.

J. W. Taylor of Ozan, Ark,, who has a ranch on the little Missouri river, has been in the bee business for seventeen years. He now has 255 stands of bees, and makes a specialty of raising queen bees for market. He sends them to all parts of the world. He has sold already this year 6000 pounds of honey, says an exchange.

From Hastings, Fla., there were shipped this spring 32,000 of Irish potatoes, which brought, after deducting freight charges, $110,000. This should encourage the farmers of this section who claim that farming won't pay. There are just as fine potatoes raised in Lumpkin and adjoining counties as in any country on the globe.

All who voted in the recent democratic primary of this county are honor bound to stick to every man on the ticket. That's the way we look at it. And those democrats who stayed away ought to have been on hand. It was their duty as true democrats, and the man who will vote a scratched ticket is not true to the cause. If allowed to do this, there is no use of having primaries. We didn't get our choice for governor nor two of the state house officess but we are going to cast our ballot for every one nominated, county officers included.

Determined to be married Lenard Patterson and Miss Rosa Foshee, a young couple from Coosa county, Alabama, walked seventy miles to Columbus and had the knot tied a few days ago. The groom had been corresponding with one of the mills there and had accepted a position with them. He did not have the money to bring his intended bride there on the train and so he and the young lady trudged most of the way through the country. They had barely enough money to buy the license and the justice who performed the ceremony credited them for his fee.

The first rain fell in some parts of New Mexico last week for the first time in nine months.

A special from Cleveland O., claims that Mayor M. L. Johnson is in the field for the democratic nomination for president.

It has become a custom for prominent defeated candidates to go in to the newspaper business. Mr. Bryan set the example.

Be careful when you visit Atlanta with butter. A negro stole 14 pounds from a countryman one day last week and has not been heard of since.

Down at Berrien county last week a desperate negro who defied arrest had to be killed. Sol Sirmans is his name and he died shooting his pistol..

Marion Lee, who was sentenced to be hanged for killing his sweet heart in Atlanta has been refused a new trial and now the case will be appealed to the Supreme Court.

It is claimed by some people in the vicinity of Oconee cemetery at Athens Ga., that at a certain time every night a woman can be seen arising out of a grave and gradually takes the shape of a goat.

The first tax digests sent in to the ecmptrollers office were from Gordon and Clynch counties, both showing increases over last year. It is to be hoped that it will be same way with all the other counties.

Some of the most prominent citizens of Dahlonega are signing a petition asking the governor to re-appoint state pensioner Lindey. He has made a fair and impartial official and we trust that he will receive the appointment.

The people of Lumpkin are not going to be misrepresented in the next general assembly by voting for an independent but are going to return the one selected by the primary who has already been tried and proved to be true and useful to his constituents.

A negro preacher from Washington City named Olive, was arrested in Atlanta the other day for making incendiary remarks in the presence of the convicts. That's right. Make the visiting negroes who come down for no other purpose than mischief, shinny on their own side.

After many efforts by certain parties a failure has been made so far in getting any one to run on the independent ticket for county offices in this county. Let some of these dissatisfied parties make the race themselves. Then they will know how popular they will be in this move.

Several country editors wanting office were defeated at the last primary in Georgia. Quite likely every one of their delinquent subscribers voted against them thinking if these editors were elected they would go out of the newspaper business and they would have nothing to read.

Another negro has gone to heaven. This one left Bainbridge last Friday by the hemp route for killing his wife some time ago. That is he said he was going there but we expect he we will miss the route. We have no other idea but what he and his wife will be given different pews and the man will long for a cooler region in a very short time after reaching his destination.

Last week governor Candler pardoned the largest batch of convicts since he has been in office. Some were in for murder, some for selling liquor and the others for various offenses. In our opinion too many criminals are being released by the governor. There is but little use of going to the expense and trouble of convicting men if they are not punished according to law. Crime will never decrease as long as so much leniency is extended by sympathetic governors.

Locals.

Mrs. H. D. Gurley and her son Claud have gone to visit relatives at Blue Ridge, Ga.

We understand that Mr. John Stringer, of this county, has purchased the Will Logan place in White county.

The visitors spending the summer in Dahlonega are well pleased with the delightful climate and pure healthy atmosphere.

Mr. J. E. McGee went over into Tennessee this week with an eye of looking out for a place to move where he thinks he can better his condition.

Messrs. C. J. Doherty, of Louisville, and L. K. Donavin, of Columbus, O., came in Wednesday to attend a directors meeting of the Crown Mountain Co.

Officers Richardson and Grizzle went up into White county this week and brought in two coppers. Also Will Palmour of that county who made bond and will have his commital trial here on an old charge later on.

Mr. Prewitt, the nominee of the democratic party in Union for tax receiver, is teaching at upper Cane Creek school in this county. He is a bright young man and we trust that he will succeed in getting the office.

Buy your goods from Price & Reese and get free of charge the nicest lot of hand painted dishes ever brought to Dahlonega. If you want something real nice that will not cost you one cent this house is the place to go. The ladies are invited to call and see them and ascertain how to get coupons that secure these beautiful dishes.

A warrant was swore out for Eppa Russel this week by a Notary Public as the law directs in cases where an unmarried woman has a child that is likely to become chargable to the county and bailiff Carroll went down after her but she had the mumps and was unable to come before the officer of the law. The father of that child had better get a move on him and go to the rescue of the woman else he will get into trouble.

We don't want to hear the cry of hard times no more. The picture enlarger came round last week and got money from some people who claim that they are not able to take a paper nor pay their debts. But he got the money out of them all the same and carried it off to another place where it can not possibly be of any benefit to us here. Really one woman who had been calling on the ordinary for help paid this man two or three dollars for a picture.

Resolutions Passed by the Teachers Institute.

We your committee on resolutions beg leave to submit the following:

Resolved 1st, That in our judgment this institute has done much to increase the ability of the teachers of this county.

Resolved 2d, That there is much yet to be done in this county to develop educational interest.

Resolved 3d, That the teachers of this county co-operate with each other in obtaining libraries and educational rallies.

Resolved 4th, That we tender our thanks to Revs. DeWeese, Blackwell, Pierce, White and Cols. Price, Baker, Lilly and Prof. Boyd for their able lectures during the institute.

Resolved 5th, That we tender our thanks to Mrs. DeWees and Mrs. Gaillard for their interesting discussions.

Resolved 6th, That we extend our many thanks to Prof. Wilber Colvin for the pleasant and very efficient manner in which he has conducted this institute and also to our C. S. C. for his untiring interest in the teachers work.

Resolved 7th, That a copy of these resolutions be handed each paper of the town for publication.

MISS LUA HIGGINS,

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, JULY 18, 1902.

Sheriff Davis says bacon is still too high to feed many prisoners in jail.

LOST.—A half moon gold breast pin near A. J. Edges. Finder will be rewarded by leaving same at this office.

Mr. F. G. Jones left last Tuesday for Athens, Tenn., where he goes to sell carpet manufacturers. The success he has depends upon the length of time he will be gone.

The Dahlonega camp meeting convenes on the second Tuesday after the first Sunday in August, so we are informed, which will be a very warm season for camp meetings.

Sheriff Davis arrested Jim Sullins on two warrants Monday night charging him with misdemeanor. The defendant made a bond for his appearance at the next term of Lumpkin Superior Court.

Mr. M. J. Williams has been absent several days this week looking after his farm in Union county and drinking out of the cool spring shaded by a grape vine where he spent his boyhood days.

Prof. L. J. Boyd, after being absent in North Carolina for a few weeks returned to Cavender's Creek mine last week. The professor, his wife and pretty little baby boy were in the city last Tuesday for a few hours.

A few words occuring in Mr. Praters store this week between he and Mr. J. B. Anderson, caused the former to report the latter to the marshal. A case was made against Mr. Anderson who was acquitted by Mayor Baker Monday night.

Mrs. Thomson left Wednesday for her home in Toledo, accompanied by Mr. Thomson's son and daughter. Mrs. R. C. Thomson will return from Atlanta in about two weeks and then her and her husband will also leave for their old home in the North.

A gentleman while in Dahlonega last Tuesday was telling us of a farmer residing over in the edge of Hall county who has several grown boys and their names are: Hesekiah; Zackeriah, Huriah, Zetheriah, Josiah, Johndyre and Dock. The father of these young men is John Morris and his mother-in-law is named Mariah. All the boys are farmers, and doing reasonably well.

Mr. F. V. Moose returned from Alabama last Tuesday after being absent a few days prospecting for gold for a gentleman down in Alabama, and strange he has not seen a particle of gold since leaving Lumpkin county. It was not there otherwise this old miner would have been certain to found it for he has been in the business long enough to know that all is not gold that glitters.

There is an unusually large crowd at Porter Springs for this early stage of the season. About one hundred guests are there and they are going up every day. The Orchestra arrived there Tuesday and there is dancing every night. Col. Farrow was in our city this week hunting Dining Hall help and hotel supplies. The young people of Dahlonega will now commence flocking to the Queen of the Mountains.

There is now a movement on foot to build a telephone line from Porter Springs to Cleveland, twelve miles, to connect with Gainesville, so that when the Dahlonega & Gainesville line is out of order the Queen of the Mountains can communicate with the world via. Cleveland, and if the Cleveland line is out of order via. Dahlonega. When there is a large crowd there as at present Col. Farrow wants two lines so as to be able to talk at all times. And it will be a great advantage to Dahlonega as it will give us too chances also for talking to Gainesville.

The jail is now empty again.

Fruit jars for sale by J. F. Moore & Co.

You are requested to renew your subscription as soon as the time expires.

It is reported here that S. A. Kelly, who went wrom Dahlonega to Texas some years ago is dead.

WANTED.—50 cords hickory or oak wood and 10 cords dry pine. See R. C. Meaders next Monday.

If in search of bargains don't forget to call at the store of T. J. Smith where they can always be had.

Some of our citizens are making blackberry wine for sale and you may know what the result will be next.

The little two-year-old child of Mr. Sam McDonald died Saturday a few miles out in the country of croup.

Col. Price and Rev. J. E. Blackburn went out into Mill Creek district this week to locate another school house.

Mr. James Anderson, of Houston Ga., is on a visit to relatives in this county, accompanied by his daughter Miss Dora.

We furnish and print good six and three-fourths envelopes from $1.75 to $2.65 per thousand at the NUGGET office, putting them in the reach of all.

Rev. Mr. Pierce, Prof. Colvin and Messrs. R. C. Meaders and E. S. Copeland are attending the district conference which is in session at Crawfordsville this week.

Mr. Geo. Walker and Miss Mary Davis, daughter of Sheriff Davis, were married last Monday, G. H. McGuire, N. P., officiating. The sheriff was gone and all this took place without his knowledge.

The Foreign Missionary article received is too lengthy for our space unless it was a matter that would benefit people nearer home. Boil all articles down as much as possible. They will be read then by more people.

A survey is being made now from Londons to the Pyrites mines in this county, so as to bring the mine into railroad connection with Gainesville by way of the Electric line being built to Dahlonega. It will be four or five miles long.

Those who have so much to say about the marshals salary should not fret for it can't be changed until the first of the year. Section 18 of the Charter of Dahlonega says that the salaries of the clerk and marshal are fixed at the first meeting of the council after it is elected and no change can be made till the end of the year.

Gainesville's merchants may sell goods a little cheaper than those doing business here but her printers doing job work don't compete with the prices of the NUGGET office, judging from the prices recently sent out by one of that city up here. Our price is cheaper. We don't mean for much printing to go away from Dahlonega now, yet we mean to make some money on our work.

Notwithstanding the cry of dull times and high taxes have been the tone by some in Dahlonega the city council by its good management has been able to reduce the taxes to 65 cents on the hundred—three cents less than last years, clearly demonstrating that we are in a better and more prosperous condition than some expected. The affairs of the place have been economically managed this year and still much brighter times are in store for the Golden City.

Prof. E. M. Osborn, who was one of the first college students at Dahlonega in 1873 came up last Saturday and spent three days in meeting his old friends that he had not seen in nearly 30 years. Almost a new generation has grown up since his last visit to Dahlonega. The professor is now connected with the schools of Augusta. We trust that he will visit Dahlonega again in the near future and remain longer for we are all glad to see him.

Fodder for sale by M. J. Williams.

Miss Eva McKee is now teaching at Afton, Ga.

An eleven year-old-child visited Gainesville this week and returned drunk.

We understand that Dr. Grove will return to the north in about a couple of months.

Envelopes and paper furnished and printed at this office for just what the blank material is retailed at.

Stick to your home merchants when you have money to spend and when in a tight they will cling to you.

Our business men find the Dahlonega State Bank very convenient. Now they can deposit their money without having to send it 25 miles to one at Gainesville.

Last Saturday was our 46th birthday. We found a nickel in the morning, took in fifteen dollars during the day, eat butter beans for dinner and had a good time generally.

Some people are always crying out hard times. It will continue with many of them if they don't stir about more. Sitting all day waiting for the ravens to come will cause many a corn to grow on them.

Remember that the NUGGET is the best and most valuable printing plant in town. The tax book shows this. We have a large assortment of type and good presses, enabling us to do any thing in the job work line you need.

A dance was given by some of the negroes here last Saturday near Meaders' stable in honor of two hollyhocks wearing dresses recently arriving from Gainesville, and the fun they had will cause all who attended it to laugh for a month.

Some of our exchanges using patent outsides are still coming to this office containing the proceedings of the democratic convention held in Atlanta some weeks ago. Do like the NUGGET, print both sides at home and then you will not have any stale matter.

Last Saturday Webb Reeves, living out in the country came towards the NUGGET editor barefooted, excited and in such haste that we didn't know what it meant. As soon as he got in holloing distance he yelled out, "please state in the NUGGET that I have a new twelve pound boy at my house." So we have done as requested.

Mr. R. C. Thomson, who has been running Hall's Villa for some time, has gone out of the business and will return to his former home in the north first of next month. Mr. Thomson is a wide awake, energetic, good clever citizen, a man who makes friends wherever he goes and we dislike to give him up. He and his family carry with them our best wishes.

By a letter received from Mr. J. M. Hutchins, who left here some time ago and is at Bird City, Colorado, dated the 4th inst., we see that there is quite a difference in the weather of that section and this. He says that snow is falling and the ground is covered eight inches deep. Icicles twelve or fourteen inches long are hanging to the roof of his hotel where the snow melted. He also adds that it is a good mining section. At this mine alone 300 men are employed, $1.75 per day being the cheapest paid common laborers.

It will be seen elsewhere that the seventeen teachers recently attending the institute of this county favor educational rallies. So do we when they can be had without taking from seventy-five to a hundred dollars from the school fund to have them. We don't favor giving a speaker two or three dollars per day to go round and make speeches to the children. Let the county school commissioner go out and the people in each neighborhood meet him and exchange ideas in the presence of the children then more good can be accomplished and cost nothing.

All our merchants are retailing meal at one dollar per bushel now.

All the country public schools of the county opened last Monday except at one or two places.

Remember that we are prepared to do work as cheap as the cheapest and as nice as it can be done in Atlanta.

Mr. James Lance, of this county, left las week for Kansas where he goes to accept a job on a railroad. We wish Mr. Lance great success in his new home.

Healthy and genial climate, pure water, first class college and public schools are found at Dahlonega and all are invited to enjoy them and be happy and prosperous.

For the next 50 days I will sell goods at greatly reduced prices, to avoid moving them. Special prices on shoes and dry goods. Come and see what I have.

3t J. H. MCKEE.

This section has the richest mineral deposits and the finest timber in the whole country, and the completion of the Gainesville and Dahlonega Electric Railway will make us a happy and prosperous people.

Sheriff Davis arrested Lawson Teal and placed him in jail last week on a warrant charging him with assault and battery, true bill being returned at the last term of Lumpkin Superior Court. He made bond afterwards.

Mr. J. F. Castleberry and his son Paul have leased Hall's Villa and already in possession. They will use the Dahlonega Hotel building for guests when crowded. The old gentleman will still run his summer house at Clarkesville during the season and young Mr. Castleberry will look after the guests down here.

Just after some of them commenced praying for rain here there came a little shower. Uncle Dick Anderson, an old negro man who has long since reached his three score years and ten, wondered why, if special prayers of this kind were answered, they didn't ask for bigger rains and get all they wanted at once.

There were ninety persons behind with their sanitary taxers for the second quarter. No notice had been given of the last day through the papers and nearly every body forgot it. So no fi fas were issued. We guess in the future the council will give notice of the time for it is cheaper for the citizens to pay 50 or 75 cents for a notice of the same than to have to pay out ninety or a hundred dollars for costs. A little printers ink accomplishes much.

The jury revisors of this county meet on the first Monday in next month for the purpose of revizing the jury box. There will be a vacancy on the board caused by Mr. G. McGuire, the present coroner, who can't act under section 813 of the code of 1895, which forbids any county officer from serving. This vacancy could have been filled at the spring term of the Superior Court but it was not thought of.

The other Sunday while a gentleman was passing through the mountains of this county he heard some one at work in a lonely place away off from any ones house. What it meant he could not understand, but determined to find out went in the direction of the sound and soon saw a man manufacturing a still. He had no shop but around him lay a few suitable tools for the business he was following. The man did not let himself be seen and passed on without molesting the workman for he felt confident that it was for some blockader and he didn't care to know anything about it. The manufacturing of these stills are interesting when we consider that it must be done with as few tools as possible, especially when it comes to the worm. The copper is soldered, filled full of sand to keep it from mashing and then bent around a sapling. The tree is cut off above and then a nicely shaped still worm is removed from the stump ready for use.

Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Catchings returned to Dahlonega last Friday.

Porter Springs is now in full blast, presenting a city like appearance.

Col. Charters went from Warm Springs, Ga., to Tate Springs in Tennessee and will return home today.

Col. T. J. Ripley, of Atlanta, came up last week with an order from court to take possession of the property belonging to D. Morrison.

The first good rain here for several months fell last Friday afternoon, causing the farmers, gardeners and miners all to look happy.

We are pleased to learn that Mr. A. C. Whitehead, who graduated at the N. G. A. College recently, has been elected principal of the high school at Canton, Ga.

Rev. L. A. Simpson and his wife passed through Dahlonega last Friday on their way to Gainesville from Porter Springs, after having spent several days up at the Queen of the Mountains.

We are requested by Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Ricketts to return their thanks through the columns of the NUGGET to the good people of Dahlonega who were so kind to them during the sickness and death of there little girl last week.

Those farmers while idle owning iron property in this county, should open it up now. It will be a great benefit to you in helping to develop the country. You can't expect to sell mineral lands of no kind without showing it up no more than a merchant can trade before exhibiting his goods.

Judge Estes stopped a few hours in Dahlonega last Friday on his return home from Porter Springs. The Judges health seems to be improving and we trust that he will soon thoroughly recover. He is a good and useful man, one whose absence is greatly missed in his community when he is sick and not able to attend to business.

The teachers institute of this county closed its session here last Friday at noon. Col. Price drew up some rules for the teachers to carry out, among them being one to open their schools with prayer or reading of a chapter in the Bible every morning. This was objected to by teacher Schultz, causing a discussion to grow right warm between him and the Colonel for awhile.

The other night when a blockader brought 4 gallons of liquor and bid it near town some of the boys played off a trick on him and got it all. While one or two went to buy some of this liquor others went round and got close enough to make a rush when the signal was given "that the revenue officers are coming," causing the poor fellow to run off and at break neck speed leaving his jugs behind at the mercy of the boys who soon had it up and gone.

We are told that Little Billy Signal had much to say about us in his last weeks issue, intimating that when we made a call at his office he jerked up a two foot rule, causing us to fall at his feet and cry out: Lord, what shall I do to be saved? Of course this is not the first lie Billie ever told in his paper. If rules are so dangerous in his hands how unfortunate it was for him that he didn't carry one when little Goodman Beck, an eighteen-year-old lad whipped him so quick that time. No, no. Billie is not near so dangerous and blood thirsty as he tries to make those unacquainted with him believe. You might take a small gourd containing a few young rabbits brains and place it on a black gum stick and put a little boy suit on it and it would be just as wise and dangerous as little Billie Signal. And you might beat him up and pan him out by the best expert in the world having one of the most powerful magnifying glasses manufactured and not the slightest colt or of manhood would be found. No. Nothing could possibly be observed except a small cloth and a safety pin.

Mining Notes.

Davis and Hamp still continue mining on Tan Yard branch making good wages.

The work at the Ivey still continues and the ore being taken out besides the rich chute is good. It is being hauled and crushed at the Lockhart mill.

Messrs. Crisson and Loveless resumed work on the latters property near the long tubes this week. They will take out the ore dry and haul it to the nearest mill. They can't obtain water to operate the mine otherwise.

Roberts and Johnson have their lift in at the Gordon and it works like a charm. They are moving right ahead on the slate in the bed of Cane Creek with a splendid prospect and when they clean up we expect to hear of something good.

The rains of last week somewhat revived the mining operations in this section although a great deal more will have to come before much can be accomplished. Crown Mountain will not likely be able to run until the Chestatee dam is completed and electrical power secured from that plant.

The members of the Cavender's Creek mine were expected out on their property first of the week and have doubtless arrived by this time. The object of their coming is to determine what to do and make plans to work the property to the best advantage. Cut the canal and build an up to date plant.

Nothing is being done at the Consolidated by the company except to run the electric plant for the operation of certain work being done by the Standard and lighting purposes in town. Mr. Breyman, the general superintendent, is expected here every day who will likely cause a revival in mining interests down that way when he comes.

The prospects of discovering the Boley Fields vein by Adams, Griffin and McDonalds is good. The blasting is slow as the rock is hard and it has to be done by hand. The galena already found causes them to expect to strike a big pocket of gold at every shot fired. If they do and the chute is as rich as when worked many years ago it will open the eyes of everybody.

Since the rain Mr. Wild has returned from his home in North Carolina and started up the little stamp mill out on Cavender's Creek again. The prospects up that way are very bright and the results splendid, much better than was ever anticipated. The last run of a few tons of ore made 103 pennyweights, satisfying its owners that with plenty of water and a larger mill a big profit can be made in mining at that place. It requires a ditch of only fifteen miles in length to furnish this property with ample water power. It has been decided, so we understand, to commence this canal at an early time.

The water of the Consolidated canal reached its destination and the whistle at the Hand mill blew Thursday of last week at noon for the first time in weeks. The water is low but they have enough to run the lights, drills and a few stamps when necessary. Work is going on at the Benning both day and night. The vein still continues large and good. Another drill is being run at the north stratified vein of the Standard and the ore shows up well. This is about all that is being done by the company at this time. It is expected to cut a tunnel at this place which may be begun by now. Several parties having short leases are taking out ore at different places on this property and milled at the Singleton with good results. This plan is a good one for the company. It does not only benefit the laborers but develops the property and is sure to accomplish much good for the country. Let the good work go on. All have our best wishes.

Words of Wisdom.

To be light-hearted is often to be simply light headed.

There are criminals that can be classified, but there are no criminal classes.

Sincerity often consists in frankness in stating opinions which are not worth stating.

Life is a succession of choices. One cannot often have this and that, but this or that.

If we cannot make ourselves happy we can make others happy and they in turn can create happiness for us.

He that cannot forgive others breaks the bridge over which he himself must pass, for every man has needed to be forgiven.

Our duty to God is cheerfully acknowledge, but toward our neighbor we rarely realize we have any special obligation.

It is to ease and pleasant to discover sins lurking in the pursuits for which you are not inclined. Many of us possess wonderful powers of perception in that direction.

A flatterer is said to be a beast that biteth smiling. But it is hard to know them from friends, they are so obsequious and full protestations, for as a wolf resembles a dog so doth a flatterer a friend.

It has been said that bright thoughts do not occur to ignorant people, neither can they, for there is nothing within to suggest them. The daily ordinary level determines the height to which we can rise on rare occasions.

When we see leaves drop from their trees in the beginning of autumn, such we think, is the friend ship of the world. While the sap of maintenance last friends swarm in abundence, but in the winter of need they leave us naked. He is a happy man that hath a true friend at his need, but he is more truly happy that hath need of his friends.

Wasn't His Hat Anyway.

Mr. Weddle, visiting his wife's relatives up in Maine, fairly had to go to church that Sunday. He did not want to go, but his wife thought it would do him good, and would be apt the harmony of the family.

The sermon was long and powder dry, and Weddle stole off into the arms of Morpheus, gently and serenely. As he did not snore his wife did not suspect that he had gone to sleeep alongside of her, and gave herself up fully to inspecting the bonnet of the woman in the pew in front.

Like all things, good and bad the sermon came to an end at last, but Weddle slumbered on like a baby even after a decon began taking up the collection in a hat. When the derby was passed to Weddle, Mrs. Weddle was surprised to see that he did not respond.

She nudged him violently to bring him back to his senses, and Weddle, awakened with a start, sat upright, and bewildered, gazed at the hat in the hand of the deacon. Then he shook his head sleepily and said:

"That isn't mine. Mine is a gray fedora."—New York Tribune

He Reasoned Wrong.

"It's all knowing how to reason," said the Pittsburg man as he sighed in a sorrowful way.

"I owned a house and lot in a town in our state and was getting a good rent for it when a congregation built a church right on the line. I reasoned it out that the place was spoiled, and when I was offered three-fifths of its former value I made haste to close the deal, I patted myself on the back oyer that bit of good luck."

"And wasn't it good luck?"

"Not a bit of it. I'm a clean thousand dollars out of pocket for reasoning hind end to. The chap who bought my place had twin babies, a piano, a fiddle and a barking dog, and the congregation hadn't occupied that church over four Sundays when it raised a purse and bought him out for twice the value of the place."

Sowing in the Wind.

Here is a good bit of truth from the Boston Globe:

"Those who are forcing high prices of living and yet refusing to pay wages to correspond will yet find themselves face to face with the whole American people. Congress will be forced as things are now drifting, to adopt drastic measures. No tariff traditions will be allowed to stand in the way. The people will not endure the strain forever."

The above speaks a prophecy that the Republican party and the trust will do well to heed. Sowing to the wind they will reap a whirlwind, as the numerous strikes throughout the country indicate. The oppression of the poor by these trusts in increased prices on the necessities of life and the hard exactions and small wages on the part of the mine owners are calculated to create unrest and dissatisfaction which may result in a social upheaval.

The republican party with its high tariff protects these trusts and is a party to all the evils that grow out of them. The overthrow of this party at the bollot box is the only sure way to remedy some of the legislation that inaugurates such policies. This will come, or revolution one or the other.—Marietta Journal.

Proving the Rule.

The following tale is told of Captain Lindsay, a British officer who was killed at Barkenlagate. The story illustrates at once the courage and ignorance of the men who went to South Africa to fight the Boers. It was at Magersfontein that the young officer was walking up and down encouraging the men. He had just said laughingly: "You mustn't mind these fellows. You know they never hit any one," when he was himself hit by a bullet and seriously wounded. As the bearers came up to take him off, he was able to turn round to his men and say, with a smile,

"Well, that's the exception that proves the rule."—Chicago News.

The News Paper

"The public is insistent in its demands. It expects the newspaper to be a pack horse, a dray team, a ditch digger, a gas inspector, a water tester a special policeman, a detective bureau, a dog chaser, a sidewalk fixer, a cow finder, a thief catcher, a business maker, a city pusher house seller, a paving inspector, a sewer erector, a pocketbook finder, a lost article hunter, council regulator, fraud discoverer, panic preventer, obituary preacher, chief taffy pourer at weddings and social functions, sporting mascot, fish liar, big egg prevaricator, snake story expander, judge on earliest gardens, booms, husband finder, sweetheart securer, school inspector, etc., etc.

N. G. A. College, Dahlonega, Ga.

In response to a number of recent enquiries from parties asking:

"Where can I place my son (or daughter) so that he (or she) may receive a good education and yet without any great expense?"

The United States Trade Reports, in a recent issue of that widely circulated paper says:—

"Realizing the importance of the subject and the confidence that would be reposed in our answer and recommendation we have made a careful investigation of the standing and character of all the leading educational institutions, and, with due respect to many that offer good advantages, we must concede our preference for the North Georgia Agricultural College, at Dahlonega, Ga. This college is conducted on the co-education of sexes plan, and it offers exceptional advantages, and at prices especially arranged for students of limited means.

"The courses of study are broad and liberal and embrace every requirement of modern education, refinement and culture. The faculty is composed of instructors especially qualified in theory and practice to teach, and one of the features of the work in this college is the attention bestowed upon the individual education of the pupils.

"The buildings occupied are large and commodious and every facility and convenience is provided for the pupils. The living apartments are neatly furnished, while the table menu is selected and prepared from the best of country produce.

"The laboratories, library and recitation rooms are provided with every essential requisite to the proper study and explanations of the lessons taught. Military discipline prevails at the college, and its entire tone and influence, moral, social, religious, educational and physical is all that could be asked by any parent solicitous for the welfare of his child, while the climate in which Dahlonega, Ga., is situated is always of a character that is invigorating and healthful to the best degrees.

"Therefore in view of these carefully ascertained facts we have not the slightest hesitancy in recommending the North Georgia Agricultural College to those who have requested this information, to whom we would respectfully suggest that for further and detailed information regarding this model college and its most admirable system and method of education, they write its President, Joseph S. Stewart, A. M."

"The North Georgia Agricultural College is prosperous, and is doing a work unsurpassed perhaps in importance and value by any other institution of learning in the South."—From Governor Candler's Message to General Assembly.

Bait For Suckers.

Now that the cherry tree cases are disposed of, it is fair to ask the question: How many of you sympathised with the people who were defrauded? Through newspapers, and by the experience of the other people, they have been warned against such schemes. They wished to get something for nothing—or practically no effort—and they placed blind faith in an absurk proposition. So they lost. Another cherry tree concern, under a different name can start business in this country to-morrow and make quick money until the law intervenes. There is always a surplus amount of wealth that folks are anxious to get rid of. Everybody in a community may be complaining of hard times, but Buffalo Bill can come along, pick up $10,000 and the amount isn't missed. Such restless money is always ready to feed the tricksters, too. Last year at the square a man declared that the soap he offered for sale would cure anything from ingrowing nails to leprosy, and was worth twenty times the price he named. That night, when his pockets were full of money, he laughed and admitted that his marvelous cure-all was made pouring cheap German extract on large bars of soap, which were sliced into small bars and covered with tinfoil. He and half the world play the cherry tree game while the other half gladly purchases—just foolish experience.—Ex.

Alice, who was five years old, was often asked to run errands for her mother says Little Chronicle. She went very willingly if she could pronounce the name of the article wanted, but she dreaded the laughter which greeted her attempts to pronounce certain word. "Vinegar" was one of the hardest for her. She never would go for it if she could help it, but one morning her mother found it absolutely necessary to send her On entering the store she handed the jug to the clerk, and said: "Smell the jug and give me a quart."—Ex.

There are forty million of men and boys in the United States, of whom ten millions or more are smokers. They consume annually some six billions of cigarettes, and also a few cigars. To meet this demand there are made in the country twenty millions of cigars every day, a large part of the million dollars that are paid out every day, and a large part of the dollars that are paid out every week as wages to tobacco workers goes to these cigar makers, who number more than 75,000.

Congress increased the saloon license in Washington City from $400 to $800 and now the saloon men serve notice on congressmen that hereafter they are expected to pay cash for their drinks. You have doubtless heard of men being hoist on their own petards.

Invention of Horseshoes.

Iron horseshoes permanently fixed to the hoofs were introduced in the fourth century of the Christian era. On the grassy plains of Asia and on the open ground elsewhere shoes were not needed, but the Romans soon found that their paved roads wore the hoof away and often lamed an animal when his services were the most needed. They could devise no better remedy, however, than leather soles and bags to protect the hoof, though there is reason to believe that they had an iron shoe which they put on and took of at pleasure. Some writers are of the opinion that the latter Romans had learned to nail the shoe under the hoof, but it seems possible that the crescent shaped horseshoe of modern times was first invented in some part of Asia.

If You Have to Fight a Boa.

If any reader of this article should ever be so unfortunate as to experience the embrace of a boa constrictor, it is recommended that he try to release himself by taking hold of the creature's tail and unwinding it from that end. It can be easily unwound in that way but otherwise it is not possible. The way to kill a snake is not to attempt to crush its head, the bones of which are very hard, but to strike the tail, where the spinal cord is but thinly covered by bone and suffers readily from injury. It is the same with an eel. Hit the tail two or thee times against any hard substance, and the eel quickly dies.

The boas are not venomous, but their fangs are sufficiently powerful to inflict serious wounds.

A Receipt for Kissing.

To one dark piece of piazza add a little moonlight; take for granted two people, press in two strong ones, a little soft hand; lift lightly two arms of attraction, one of romance, add a large measure of folly and one or two whispers, dissolve a half dozen glances in a well of silence, cast in a small quantity of hesitation, one ounce of resistance, two of yielding, place the kisses on a flushed cheek of two lips, flavor with a slight scream and set aside to cool.

This will succeed in any climate if directions are carefully followed.—Jefferson County Banner.

An exchange says: "A colored brother was expounding the gospel to this flock, and after vividly describing the place of the demand concluded the services with the following: "Brethren, I have been asked how hot is hell and I would that is you took all the wood in New York state, and the coal in Pennsylvania, and pled 'em in a heap, and poured on all the ile in the world, set dat on fire, and deen took a man out of hell and put him on that burning mass he would freeze to death. Dat's how hot hell is!"

A Happy Home.

Life is too short to have any other than a happy one. What does it take to make the home an earthly paradice? Much every way and at the same time it takes but little when one gets in that habit of making everything pleasant and around him or her, as the case may be. We heard of a couple getting married and making this agreement; when one gets mad the other is to be in a good humor. It would be well for a great many of us to practice the same thing. Just one mad person wouldn't amount to very much, but when two get mad, my, my, something gwine to happen. Most homes are happy homes, and all should be. For our part we had rather live in a log cabin contented and happy, than to live in a mansion, with money to burn and live a dissatisfied, grumbling, mopy life. Give us health and we will make happiness, should be the expression of every husband and wife.—Ex.

The young women of the town of Fremont, Neb., have an organization which, if lived up to rigidly, is apt to do a great deal of good; more, possible, than a great many dry and windy sermons could accomplish. The purpose of the girls' club, in short, is to boycot the bad young men. The girls pledge themselves that they will not keep company with or receive attentions from any man who is not a total abstainer from the following vices: Lying, swearing, stearling, keeping late hours or bad company, gambling, drinking and smoking. The club has committees whose dutics are to investigate the young men of the town and keep a record of their habits, so far as it may be possible to ass certain them. Every young man will have a rating, which will be bettered or lowered as the circumstances justify. The black sheep are to be boycotted completely. They must become good, or go without sweethearts and wives.—Morning News.

For nine years an aged New Yorker has lived in his wife's tomb in the Evergreen cemetery. Devotion to her memory has robbed the once powerful man of all his physical strength and his vitality, sapped by years of bitter exposure, is ebbing away. He has always had a melancholy pleasure in sitting in the tomb by the side of his dead wife, and has found his only happiness there, for he does not believe he will meet her in another world. Though he lives in the tomb the old man does not sleep there. He leaves the cemetery every night and goes to a little room in a house in Williamsburg. Early in the morning he creeps out of his bed and goes to the cemetery. "Good morning, Mary," he always says to his wife when he enters the tomb, just as if her deaf ears could hear his voice through the thick walls of her metal coffin.

FOR GOVERNOR,

HON. J. M. TERRELL,

OF

MERIWETHER COUNTY.

Atlanta's police caged 25 Chinamen for gambling the other night.

Seven thousand people attended the veterans reunion at Statesboro last week.

On Sunday morning 11 stores were burned at Colquitt, Ga. Loss $40,000.

The appointment of negro physician on board of pension examiners in South Carolina causes protest.

A negro tried to kill the mayor of Griffin last Sunday, but the cartridge failed to fire thus saving the officials life.

The populist say that they are going to nominate Judge Hines for governor but he declares that he won't accept.

Twenty new damage cases have been filed against the Ducktown copper mines, caused by the sulphur smoke.

It is said that Editor Thomas of the Dawsonville Advertiser, is also a candidate for the senate from this district.

On Sunday afternoon a building was wrecked by lightning at Waycross. Four men were seriously injured. Ones shoes were torn from his feet.

The heavy rains in Iowa last week sent a flood down upon prosperious Missouri farmers and damaged them to the amount of about $4,000,000.

Independents seem to be in demand here. Some parties proposed this week to pay all expenses if certain men would run for office, but they refused.

On the morning of the 21st 150 lives were lost on the Elbe. The steamship Premius, with 185 persons aboard was cut in two by a tug and only 30 of them were saved.

A lady wants $1,500 for delivering the dead body of a convict to the Oregon penitentiary which she accidentally found after he had escaped from prison. She was tendered $500 but wouldn't receive it.

Bonds held by the Cantral is declared to be taxable, says Attorney General Wright. The total amount of bonds involved is $1,547,000. Heretofore they have not been taxed and will help out considerably in a strain.

Miss Mamie Jarvis of Cuthbert, Ga., has gone to Manilla, Philippine Islands, to wed Capt. A. B. Dayis of the United States army. It will take 40 days for her to make the trip. This is a case of true love.

Mrs. Nancy Jones, a revolutionary war pensioner, recently died at her home near Jonesboro, Tenn. Her death leayes only two persons on the pension roll of that war in 1831. When 16½years old, she married Darling Jones, then 68 years old, who was a revolutionary soldier. He died in 1848. She had two sons in the civil war on the union side and a grandson in the Spanish-American war coyering a period of 119 years.

At a recent meeting of the Southern Cotton Buyers Association held in Atlanta, the following resolution was adopted: "That it is agreed upon all buyers belonging to this Association to put a penalty of less than 50 cents per bale for any bale that has on above 6 yards of bagging and 6 bands. This penalty will be increased according to the amount of excess bagging there may be above the 6 yards and 6 bands so allowed." Cotton ginners should bear this matter in mind.

A negro boy arrested in Birmingham confessed the murder of five babies.

Fifty carloads Georgia peaches passed through Macon last Friday for the north worth $37,000.

The great Chicago strike has ended with a billion dollars loss to the city and no profit to the laborers.

Twenty counties of Mississippi are suffering from a disastrous drouth and in many counties no corn will be made at all. The same way in Texas.

Dr. J. T. Collins, of Jasper county, was arrested the other day while operating a 400 gallon still. He had been a practicing physician for 25 years and was making liquor for his patients, contrary to the rules of Uncle Sam.

The merchants of Atlanta have decided to run exeursions during the month of August in order to stimulate business. They will be run to all points within a radius of a hundred miles of the city and bring in 5,000 people weekly.

Last week Deputy Sheriff Flanders of Emanual county, was shot and killed by Charlie Johnson. There was a warrant against Johnson for murder and when the sheriff met him in the road and demanded his surrender he raised his gun with above results.

In Gainesville the other day Miss Mary E. Beanett was slapped in the face by a negro woman in front of the Arlington hotel. This is food for thought for some of you who are thinking of making an independent race in Lumpkin county, who call yourselves democrats.

Do you say you want an independent to run for the legislature in Lumpkin county? If so then you are opposed to the democratic party and are working for the interest of one which fayors the continuance in office of a negro for U. S. Collector of Georgia, like we have now located in Atlanta by the name of Rucker.

Those few who are mouthing around wanting to beat Hon. G. D. Bruce, the nominee of the democratic party for the legislature, ought to consider that he has made the best representative Lumpkin county has had in a long time. Done the most good for his county and got the least credit for it of any man ever sent there. This is not only said by us but by people of other counties who served with him.

The water wheels for the Chestatee dam were carried out yesterday. Work is being pushed very rapidly at that place now by the railroad people. An addition of 17 hands has been made to the force, and it is only a question of a short time when the work will be completed. A force of hands are now at work on the Chattahoochee clearing up, digging and blasting, and running the approaches to the dam site. In a few days the entire force will be put to work on the Chattahoochee dam and it will be rushed to completion.—Eagle.

Some of the soreheads are trying to induce Capt. F. M. Williams to make the race against Hon. G. D. Bruce for the legislature of Lumpkin county. We believe Capt. Williams is too good a democrat and too wise a man to be led into an independent race. He has been in the legislature enough to know the poor showing an independent would haye there, even if there was any chance for the success of a man on this ticket. Later.—Capt. Williams has spoke out as will be seen by his card elsewhere. Just as we predicted. No true democrat is going to be led into a race by soreheads and republicans. If the republicans are dissatisfied why don't they ask for office themselves. Let us say one word and it is this: Some of the dissatisfied so called democrats will be sure to regret the move they are making. Be true to the cause, else turn over and be called a republican. Then maybe if you can't get an office you can draw a pension some time.

Hon. F. C. Tate Accepts.

Hon. F. C. Tate in accepting the nomination for congress from the 9th district says:

In accepting the nomination tendered me through you by the Democratic Congressional Convention of the 9th Congressional District held in the City of Gainesville on the first day of July 1902 I desire to assure you that I fully appreciate the honor that has been conferred upon me by being selected as the democratic candidate for the 58th Congress, and am sensible of the great responsibilities which rest upon a representative in the Congress of the United States.

I have made an honest effort to faithfully represent the people of this district, and I wish that I deserve what your convention has in such kind words said of me in its resolution, for the most cheering and gratifying of all human rewards to me is to receive from the people of this district their cordial approval of "Well done good and faithful servant."

I have not words to express my grateful appreation of the kind terms in which the convention approves my humble efforts as the representative of this Congressional District, for the unanimous yote given me in the primary and for this nomination. I rejoice with our people in the fact that we have now no political strife and dissension in this desired change since our party first honored me with its nomination indeed is gratifying.

During my public service I have had, throughout this entire district, cordial, warm-hearted and deyoted friends who have sustained me at all times. For their disinterested and devoted friendship and constant loyalty I fail in suitable language to express my gratitude. What can I say at all commensurate with the feeling of gratitude which I owe to the people of this district whose humble representative I have been for years, except to them that their confidence will not be betrayed while I have the honor to be their public servant and that it shall be my desire and purpose to prove myself worthy of their support and good will and that in the future as in the past I shall earnestly endeaver to make them a capable, faithful and painstaking representative?

With my thanks, gentlemen, for the kind manner in which you have advised me of my nomination and with best for each of you personally, I am,

Your friend
F. C. Tate.

A Card.

Having been solicited by a number of friends from all sections of the county to make the race for the legislature to represent the people of Lumpkin county, I take this method of explaining my position politically. First, I have been honored by the people of Lumpkin county for twelve years as ordinary, and for two years as representative, and was elected and seryed as a democrat, now I can't afford and will not run against any democratic nominee, and therefore decline to accept the race. I have always said that there was no such thing in politics as an independent democrat, and now say to my good friends and democrats to stay with the nominees.

F. M. Williams.

It having been reported that Mr. G. C. Wallace was going to run for clerk of the Superior Court on the independent ticket caused us to make enquiry of the gentleman this week who authorized us to say that he would not under any circumstances, because he was a democrat, had always been and would support the democratic nominee to a man.

W. R. Wells who was hanged in Atlanta last Monday for the murder of Pierce, the blind man said that he was going to heaven. If the murderer of a blind man can get to heaven it is easier for a person to get there than we expected.

We understand that the republicans of this county are raising a campaign fund to be used in connection with the so called independent democratic lip.

The profits of the dispensary of Rome during the month of June was $3,226.53. The temperance people can find plenty of work in that city.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, JULY 25, 1902.

See city tax notice.

Clerk John Moore visited Gainsville this week.

WANTED.—Three loads of wheat straw. B. R. MEADERS & SONS.

Still a few more bolts of that good wide cheap sheeting at Price & Reese. Only 5 cents a yard.

Mr. R. C. Meaders also visited the Sunday School celebration out at Glenn school house last Sunday and reports as enjoying the program very much.

A blockader brought a vessel of liquor to market last Monday morning early under his arm wrapped up in a pair of old pants so as to keep down suspicion.

Mr. Daniel Grice, residing in Forsyth county, came up with his family last week to visit his relatives and look about over the ground of his childhood days.

It's bad enough to hear a man curse but when it comes to women swearing it is worse, and afterwards attending church services and occupying front seats, it becomes disgusting.

The officials were making a record of tax defaulters last Tuesday in this county and many will not be able to vote unless they pay up. Among them we noticed the name of a postmaster of this county.

Our city was visited by two tramps last Monday who were making their way to Hot Springs, Ark., they said, by begging. They were both cripples but as we have worse cripples here neither got much.

An effort is being made to have the mail route from Hedwig in this county extended about three miles to Hutcherson Bros. store which if done will be much more convenient to the citizens of that community.

Minister Pierce and the delegates, who attended the district conference at Lawrenceville last week, have all returned highly pleased with the meeting and the way they were treated by the citizens of that place.

We noticed the Stay mail carrier trudging along last Monday with the sack on his shoulder and a dozen eggs tied up in a handerchief in one hand. It is strange that people will work for Uncle Sam harder and for less money than any one else.

Mr. James B. Witt, while on his way to Dahlonega, via. Ellijay this week missed his route after he got into this county and went several miles out of his way on account of no sign board at the forks of the road. Road Commissioners should remember that it is their duty to see that boards are put up at every fork and crossing of the road.

It may be that the postoffice at Porter Springs will be suspended as soon as the summer season ends. Col. Farrow says he has a notion of doing this but has not fully determined yet. If he does come to this conclusion the office and store at that place will hereafter be open only during the summer. The Col. says that Porter is private property and he only wants it used as such and the only way to do it is to adopt this plan.

On the lower floor of the girls dormitory of the N. G. A. College the trustees have established a dining hall under the management of a professor, where the young ladies of the dormitory, the professors and their families, the young men having rooms in boys' dormitory, or those rooming in town may get good, wholesome table board at $8.00 a scholastic month or co-operative plan. By establishing this co-operative plan the college is enabled to offer excellent board to young ladies at $10.00, including laundry, at $9.00 to boys rooming in boy's dormitory; and from ten to eleven to boys rooming elsewhere.

The pretty badge lost last year by Miss Irine Moore was found on the public square last week.

The present high price of bacon should induce our farmers to raise more hogs as well as hominy.

Mr. J. B. Clements was down last week looking at the G. McGuire farm with a view of buying it.

Among the visitors arriving at Hall's Villa last week was Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Whitney, of Finley, Ohio.

Mr. T. J. Smith has just received a beautiful lot of clothing. If you are needing anything in this line go and see him.

Mr. Charlie Singleton, after an absence of some months from Dahlonega, put in his appearance again last week.

Remember that we keep on hand all kinds of blanks for Justices of the Peace and bailiffs, which we sell very cheap.

When the railroad is completed and operation begins at the Pyrite's mine it is going to be one of the biggest things in this whole country.

Last Saturday meal and corn were very scarce articles in Dahlonega. Corn was worth $1.00, meal the same and corn liquor 75 cents per quart.

Mr. M. G. Smith, residing a few miles above Dahlonega, was painfully injured last week by falling from his wagon and dislocating one of his shoulders.

Prof. Stewart, after an absence of a couple of weeks from Dahlonega, returned last Friday. His family is still down at Marietta, Ga., the former home of Mrs. Stewart.

There is a young lad who has already ruined one girl corresponding with another in Dahlonega. Isn't it strange that some girls can't take warning until it is too late?

Judge Huff went out last Sunday to attend a Sunday School celebration at Glenn school house in Wahoo district which was a very enjoyable affair to all present.

Mr. Floyd Carroll, Mr. James Glaze and his two sisters Miss Lillie and Miss Fannie, of White county, were down on a visit last week to friends and relatives in Dahlonega.

Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Simmons and Mrs. Fannie Reese arrived in Dahlonega from Atlanta last Saturday. The two ladies will remain here till fall and Mr. Simmons will return to Atlanta in a few days.

Col. Charters returned from the Tate Springs in Tennessee last Friday, very much improved in health by the trip. He is now down at Gainesville giving his attention to criminals in the Superior Court of that county.

A gentleman who has recently located here gave us a very high compliment at the hotel last Saturday, by saying that the job of work we did for those he is connected with "was as good work as Foote & Davies of Atlanta.

Piercan Edmonson, who was working out a fine, was again lodged in the calaboose last Friday. When the marshal had anything to do Piercan was always absent which caused the marshal to place him there until releasing him on Sunday.

The rains have been in streaks in this section and the prospect for a good corn crop in some parts of the county is splendid while in others it is bad. Up land corn planted early will not average a fourth of a crop we don't suppose unless the farmers are deceived.

Mr. Henry Asbury, a prosperous merchant of Clarksville, Ga., spent a short time in Dahlonega last week mixing and mingling with his many friends here. Mr. Asbury attended college in Dahlonega in 1883 and it is a pleasure for him to return and view the old stamping ground of his school boy days, and we are certainly always pleased to see him among us.

When you fail to receive your NUGGET promptly let us know.

When visiting Dahlonega don't forget to stop at the Tate House.

The health of Dahlonega was never better. Not a single case of typhoid fever in town.

The chicken cholera has made its appearance in Dahlonega. We having lost more than a dozen favorite fowls recently.

We keep rag, bond and linen envelopes with paper to match, which we can print you in good style and at reasonable prices.

Dr. Groves is selling out for the purpose of returning to the north first of the month which will cause those having dental work here to do, some inconveniece.

For the next 50 days I will sell goods at greatly reduced prices, to avoid moving them. Special prices on shoes and dry goods. Come and see what I have.

3t J. H. MCKEE.

Hall's Villa has been alive with guests during the last eight or ten days, numbering from forty to fifty keeping Mr. Paul Castleberry busy looking after their comfort and pleasure.

The five illicit distilleries recently destroyed in this county by Collector Richardson and Marshal Grizzle, belonged to Esquire Walden, Jasper Grizzle, George Gaddis, Francis Seabolt and Woots Waters, so say Mr. Richardson.

If all negroes were like Isaac Rucker, Billie Riley and a few others of this county there would be no use of any court houses. They take their county paper and pay for it promptly and keep posted as to what is going on much more so than many of the white people.

Mr. R. C. Wood is making some improvements on his property up in Crumby's district that will be very valuable when completed. His dam for his saw mill is already done and the canal about so, and an order has been given out for the lumber to build a necessary tube. This old gentleman is too industrious to be idle.

Goods are some higher in Dahlonega than in Gainesville. Why? Because some people in this county spend their money in Gainesville and buy goods on a credit from their home merchants. Keep all the money in your home town and county if you want them to prosper. Then your home merchants will be able to give you bargains too.

We begin this week the publication of the reports and suggestions of the state agricultural dedepartment sent out by Commissioner Stevens. We are satisfied that they will be read with interest because the recent vote Mr. Stevens received in the democratic primary proved that the people of Georgia have the utmost confidence in him.

We had a pleasant call last Friday from Mr. J. N. Upham and his son Frank, from Decatur, Ill., who are spending a short time with Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Packard of Turkey Hill, in company with Mrs. Upham. These parties in company with Mrs. Packard all went out to Cane Creek falls last Friday and spent several hours, taking dinner during the time, each of whom enjoyed the trip very much. Mr. Upham says it is quite a treat for him to get to visit this section during the summer.

The report that half a dozen preachers would be up at Yahoola church last Sunday caused many to turn out to hear religious matters discussed that would not have gone otherwise. But all were deceived. Mr. Gilreath, the pastor, was even absent and no one to fill the stand except young Mr. Ridley from across the mountain, and everything was unusually quiet. Not a drop of liquor could be smelt on any body, which is a rare thing up there on public gatherings. We understand that the pastor has gone into politics and will ask the people of his county, Union, to elect him to the legislature on the republican ticket.

Oats in the bundle at M. J. Williams.

Lieut. James Cantrell, of White county, is now at Fort Casey, Washington. He sends this week for the NUGGET to read while not on duty.

Hon. A. P. Howard, of Atlanta, who has been spending about a couple of weeks in Dahlonega for his health, left last Tuesday on a tour through the mountains.

Our esteemed friend Mr. J. B. Witt, is over from McCay, Tenn., this week visiting his family here. Mr. Witt is in the mercantile business over there and says he is prospering.

Mr. Bruce Crawford was caught in a severe rain and wind storm over at Murrayville last Sunday, causing him to have fears for awhile that he was going to come in contact with a cyclone.

While some newspapers are like a balloon, large and full of gas, the NUGGET is small and contains nothing but the cream of the news. This is one reason why so many people take it.

There is some complaint by a Burtsboro subscriber. Often they don't receive their papers until Monday when they should get them on Saturday. We will try to ascertain the trouble.

Mr. Sovey and Mr. Trengent, two northern gentlemen who have been located at the Briar Patch mine for some time, were in Dahlonega last Sunday in company with their sisters who came down last week, and Miss Annie Miller of Auraria.

Our friend Mr. G. W. Hubbard, who left Dahlonega a short time ago is up among his relatives at Norwalk, Wisconsin, who reports plenty of rain and pleasant weather. Being desirous of hearing from the people of this section he sent for the NUGGET.

Last week Mr. R. C. Meaders inserted a three or four line ad. in the NUGGET calling for bidders for some wood at the N. G. A. College and when the committee went to open them ten bids were found. This shows what advertising will do. Mr. Henley Wimpy was the successful contractor, who furnishes hard wood at $1.37½ per cord and pine at $1.22½.

Our city was visited last week by the members of the mining company who are arranging to commence business in earnest down at the Briar Patch, being Dr. T. R. Crayen, Judge Rigley and Mr. R. S. Disney, of Chicago, and Mr. W. I. Rush and Dr. Flanders, of Kansas City. While here Mr. Rush made arrangements with Mr. M. F. Whelchel, of this place, to board his family for a month or so, to be here later on.

Tax receiver James Healan completed his digests and brought one to the ordinary and and sent the other off to the comptroller general's office last Saturday, showing a right nice little increase over last year. The total tax returns for 1891 was $901,129, and for 1892, $913,472, an increase of $12,343. This is very encouraging indeed and shows that we are on the right road to prosperity.

The rules for the public schools of this county have been published and sent out. Among them is one requiring all shcools to be opened with prayer each morning or the reading of a chapter in the Bible. Some are opposed to this but we can't see why. If the Bible was used in preference to some of the books adopted and a prayer offered instead of a two dollar speech more good would be accomplished, is our belief.

A meeting of the stockholders of the Dahlonega and Gainesville Telephone Co. met in Capt. H. D. Ingersoll's office here last Monday and re-elected the same old officers and directors and declared a dividend of 20 per cent, being 60 per cent for three years, causing all to be pleased with the progress of the phone. Some improvements were spoken of and will be made later on which will make it one of the best systems in the whole country.

Judge Huff is going to make some repairs on the court house front.

Mr. Louis Rickets was up this week from Atlanta on a visit to relatives.

Another picnic at Cane Creek falls last Tuesday. Of course there were no old ones in it.

Many of our citizens are compelled to sink their wells several feet deeper on account of the drouth.

Thomas Stringer was in last Friday with the first melons raised in Lumpkin county, which brought him a satisfactory price.

WANTED:—An experienced man to bud peach trees.

FITTS & BROOKSHEE,
Dahlonega, Ga.

There will be no preaching services at Presbyterian church next Sunday, as the pastor will be at Maysville helping Dr. Hoyt in a meeting.

If the person who climbed the fence at the north corner of the brick house lot and carried off an umbrella will put it back soon there will be no prosecution.

At the one price cash store B. R. Meaders & Sons will be found good horse collar pads 20c; cuspidors 15c; tin foot tub 30c; 8 day metal clocks $1.95; jute rugs 30 x 60 inches 35c; ladies steel rod umbrellas 40c; box paper from 5 to 25 cents.

Prof. J. S. Stewart, President of the State Agricultural College in Dahlonega, is here with his family for several weeks. He is working the state in the interest of that college. Prof. Stewart has bought him a $2500 home in Dahlonega, and it looks af if he was a fixture there.—Marrietta Journal.

Have you seen our nice line of assorted decorated line of chinaware which we are giving away? If not come at once. We give you checks to the amount of your cash purchases and these checks are redeemed in chinaware after you have $1.50 worth. Smallest checks give with purchase 10 cents.

PRICE & REESE.

Buy your goods from Price & Reese and get free of charge the nicest lot of hand painted dishes every brought to Dahlonega. If you want something real nice that will not cost you one cent this house is the place to go. The ladies are invited to call and see them and ascertain how to get coupons that secure these beautiful dishes.

Mr. M. C. Williams, a brother of Capt. F. M. Williams of this county, is over on a visit from Tennessee. They differ in politics. Mr. M. C. Williams is a republican and the Captain and his other brother are democrats and during the war they were in opposite armies and in several battles around Nashville, fought each other. Mr. Williams reports the prospect of a good crop in his section.

Mr. J. T. Miller, of Auraria, Ga., received the sad intelligence of his oldest sons death last Monday which occurred in Sanfrancisco, Cal., on the 4th inst., stating that he was found dead in a certain hotel of that city. This information came from the coroner. He said that only 35 cents was found on his person and just one letter which was from his father. This is how they assertained who he was and where he was from. Mr. Miller at once telephoned for full particulars but up to this writing no reply has been received. Arthur left this county about five months ago, and was at his uncles some where near that city and had gone out that day to spend the 4th in Sanfrancisco. The supposition here is that he was murdered and robbed, for no man having money is likely to go to spend the fourth of July in a big city with only 35 cents. Later.—A reply has been received stating that young Mr. Miller was killed by gas, but it was believed that he had been foully delt with—probably drugged, robbed and then the gas turned on. Mr. Miller will leave for that city in a few days to bring back his sons remains, so we are informed.

Mining Notes.

In speaking of the mining operations of Messrs. Crisson and Loveless last week we meant to say that the property belonged to Mr. Crisson but the type made it read Mr. Loveless.

The operators of the Lockhart mine are now making for the Prewitt vein which may be struck this week. This vein has always paid well and there is no reason why it shouldn't again.

It looks as if Auraria, in this county, is going to have a mining boom at an early day. There is some splendid mineral property in the vicinity of this place and the boom is likely to be a permanent one.

The new company contemplating the working of the Betz mine near Auraria, is getting ready for business. A charter will be applied for, a new stamp mill erected and the mine operated on a larger scale than heretofore. The survey on the ditch commenced to day. Judge Huff has charge of it.

Mr. W. H. Courtney, of White, went down to Auraria to see about some additional machinery to add to the Reeves mine he is operating for this gentleman residin Athens. The scarcity of water has also been a drawback to the operation of this mine.

Mr. Packard of the Turkey Hill mine, is moving right along, the new machinery recently installed all working as smooth and nicely as the machinery of a clock. The water for the operating of this mine is pumped from the Chestatee river and no trouble is caused by drouths.

A meeting of the stockholders of the Crown Mountain Gold Mining Co., will be held here on the 7th day of August for the purpose of transacting some important business, something that will be of benefit to every one of its stockholders and to each resident of Lumpkin county.

Just as we predicted. The bed of Cane Creek being operated by Messrs. Roberts and Johnson is very rich. The gold is so plentiful down on the slate that they can pan it out on or with a miners shovel. An eye witness to this fact informed us so last Sunday. No clean up has been made by them up to this writing.

The different parties operating under leases on the Standard property are making money. The company is also working certain veins with success. Johnson and Riley have a splendid good sized vein. It is what miners call a blanket vein and some eight or nine feet broad. The last twelve tons milled produced 149 pennyweights of clean gold and the ore is believed to be getting better.

The president and members of the Briar Patch mine came down last week to examine and determine what course to pursue first concerning the the operating of this mine. And it was decided to begin the building of a dredge boat as soon as the specifications, material, etc., can be obtained. At their meeting this week it was determined to cut the canal, work to begin at an early day, so we understand. When this is done and the water is put on this mine they are bound to succeed if properly managed for it is among the best mines of the section.

Mr. Wild, the Superintendent of the Cavender's Creek mine, informed us that instructions had been received from the company to go to surveying and be ready to begin the cutting of the canal to their mine as early as possible. When ample water is had to work this mine it will prove to be one of the best gold propositions on this entire belt. They now have one of the biggest veins already exposed that has yet been discovered in this county. It is known as the Buck Howard vein and has been opened up for about five hundred feet, being continuous the entire distance, and how much farther it continues of course is not known. The resurveying of the canal commenced Wednesday and they expect to begin cutting it first of next month.

A Law For Husbands.

At Uelzen, in the Luneburg, the authorities have passed a law which is more popular with the fair than the sterner sex. Husbands must be at home by 11 o'clock. A fine equal to 10 shillings is the penalty for infringing this regula tion, of which goes to the person—persumably the wife—who brings and proves accusation.

The thinking men of the south are being aroused to the importance of manual training for the average southern white boy. The professions and the mercantile class will take care of themselves, but the great mass of boys need looking after, and no educational movement will be so far-reaching for good as that directed to the advancement of youth along lines af manual training in connection with grammar schools.—Marietta Journal.

Down in the hold of the transport Kilpatrick, which will sail from Sanfrancisco for Manilla within the next few days, is a growsome reminder of what war means for many of the ambitious American boys who sail east to fight the Filipinos. A large part of the transport's cargo consists of coffins. She will carry 4,000 of them. It is an extraordinary shipment, but cholera, the bobonic plague and other Asiatic diseases are making corpses so fast that extraordinary shipments of coffins are found necessary.

WHEAT CULTIVATION

Interesting Paper by Commissioner Stevens.

VARIETY OF WHEAT TO USE.

Valuable Suggestions and Timely Advice which Every Enterprising Farmer in Georgia Should Heed.

The wheat crop for this year, owing to several adverse causes well known to all the wheat growers of Georgia, did not come up to the average. But this partial failure should no more cause a diminution in the area devoted to this valuable grain than an unfavorable season for corn or cotton should cause a falling off in the acreage of those crops.

The same reasons which led to the great revival of wheat growing in Georgia in 1899 and 1900 still prevail. One of the chief arguments in favor of wheat growing, so persistently urged at the time, was that the negro farmer by reason of his manner of life can make a living for his family at far less expense than is required by the white man, and hence can afford to sell his cotton at a lower price.

Therefore the competition between the white and black planter would prove disastrous to the former unless he could be self-supporting and have cotton for his surplus money crop.

A farmer's life should be one of financial independence; but, unless he can live in the main at home on the fruits of his own industry and supply the market with those products that are ever in demand, he is in danger of becoming a hewer of wood and drawer of water to his more enterprising neighbors. If he raises enough to live upon, he can hold his cotton for good prices.

An attractive looking home, a well filled storehouse and ready cash for himself and family are necessary, if he would bind the affections of his wife and children to their country home. Diversity of crops is an absolute necessity for successful farming, and no crop that can be raised adds more to the comfort of a home than wheat, which in its flour gives that bread which by most people is preferred to every other kind, and in its bran supplies one of the most wholesome feeds for stock.

No good farmer in North or Middle Georgia should fail to set apart a portion of his land for wheat. What if there is an occasional short crop? Can he raise anything that is not liable to the same misfortune?

Those states of our Union and those countries of the world are the richest, whose farmers raise abundance of wheat and oats, and grass for pasturage and for hay. Raise abundance of these things for man and beast and add to them plenty of corn. Then you can have the best of poultry, hogs, sheep, beef and dairy cattle and all your cotton will be a money crop, with which to purchase the comforts that should be found in every home, and to provide a support for declining years.

The Variety of Wheat to Use.

Knowing well the many conditions affecting the yield of wheat, we would again advise that you select a variety most capable of withstanding the many drawbacks attendant upon the cultivation of this grain. A kind having a strong, stiff stem and possessing the greatest power of withstanding extreme cold weather is the best. All other things being equal, that which has a thin skin or bran is to be preferred.

Soil For Wheat.

A soil, whose predominating characteristics are loam and clay, and that having also an abundant supply of nitrogenous matter with sufficient phosphoric acid, potash and lime, is best adapted to the growing of wheat. If these elements are lacking, use plenty of barnyard manure, if available, and concentrate it. Ten tons to the acre will not be too much. Also apply plenty of wood ashes, for these contain phosphoric acid, potash, lime and soluble silicia, all essential elements for the growth of the wheat plant. For most land some high grade commercial manure is the best. The soil must be dry, under-drained, if necessary, for wheat cannot be made on land which has an excess of water. An excellent soil for wheat is a gray, loamy top soil, with an under soil of stiff red clay.

Proper Depth to Cover Wheat.

We have from time to time given to the readers of these talks the results of experiments made to determine the proper depth to cover wheat. The result of these experiments caused us in one of our letters to advise that it is better to harrow the wheat and fertilizers in, from one to three inches deep, according to the character of the soil, remembering that a thinner covering is required in close, heavy land than in that which is light or sandy. A better plan, when practicable, is to use the wheat drill after having first thoroughly plowed, fertilized, harrowed, raked, pulverized and rolled the land. This process leaves the land in excellent condition for the propagation and growth of the wheat plant, and gives, moreover, a smooth surface, so important for the future harvest.

Mr. W. J. Bridges, one of our most successful Georgia farmers, in telling how he raised 65 bushels of wheat to the acre, said that he put it in with a drill, using about 400 pounds of a special high grade potash fertilizer at the same time. In planting the wheat he put in 105 pounds, or one bushel and three pecks to the acre. The bluestem variety is considered by many the best. It is claimed by those who have tried it that the soaking of the wheat in bluestone will prevent smut, a disease more to be dreaded than rust. The bluestone should be dissolved in boiling water and about a gallon of this water should be used for every two bushels of wheat, about one pound of the bluestone being required for each gallon.

Best Time to Plant Wheat.

The experience of our best farmers is, that the wheat should be put in as late in the season as will allow it to throw out a system of roots and leaves large enough to cover the entire surface of ground before the coming of the cold blizzards. Our best Georgia farmers plant from October 1st to November 1st, according to latitude, soil and climatic conditions. Some of our most successful Middle Georgia farmers think that wheat should never be sown until after the first big frost in November, as it will then withstand more successfully the ravages of the Hessian fly or small grub. Of course, the farmers of North Georgia plant earlier.

How to Preserve and Restore the Fertility of the Soil.

After the wheat has been harvested, it is an excellent plan to plant the entire acreage in cow-peas; for there is no crop, as far as we know, that will produce such permanent good effect upon the soil. By this method the land is put in good condition for the next crop of wheat.

Much of our land in Georgia has been run down by unwise cultivation in the past. These exhausted lands need nitrogen and available phosphoric acid and potash, and, especially, lime. To restore these elements to our wasted lands, sow cow-peas after grain and turn them under in the fall after having first broadcasted barnyard manure, ashes and lime. The repetition of this process from yea rto year will steadily increase the fertility of the soil and the wealth of the farmer.

Best Fertilizers For Wheat.

Some soils are naturally so rich that no fertilization is required; but these are the exception, and even the most of these will, after a few years, require some sort of fertilizers in the form of plant food. These should be in a form for immediate use. Barnyard manure, if pulverized very fine and then applied, is very valuable.

The planting of clover on wheat lands in some sections, but of cow-peas in most parts of Georgia, and plowing these under several weeks before sowing the wheat, as has been said, will prepare the land well for this crop. In England, and in our western states, the droppings of the sheep and cattle have added much to the productiveness of wheat lands. But the majority of our farmers are not stock raisers, and need a fertilizer that is immediately available. Therefore artificial fertilizers, or commercial manures, must be used, for the reason that farm manures cannot always be had in sufficient quantity and are rarely applied in a mechanical condition to be readily assimilated by the wheat plant. But the commercial manures have been scientifically prepared with special reference to the needs of different kinds of soils and crops, and, though they involve some outlay of money, the increase of the crop will well repay the expenditure. Experiments have frequently proved that a judicious application of $10 worth of the proper fertilizers will often bring a return of from $20 to $30 worth of grain.

In the management of the Department of Agriculture, it has ever been my aim to subserve the best interests of the farmers of Georgia. After mature reflection I still advise: Do not diminish your wheat acreage. Persevere and cultivate your wheat lands after the most approved method. Turn not back; but go forward in this good work, feeling assured that the final outcome will be increased prosperity for yourselves and for all the interests of our beloved Georgia.

O. B. STEVENS,
Commissioner of Agriculture.

CROP CONDITIONS.

At this time the general condition of crops is far from encouraging. The drought which has prevailed up to the 2d of July, accompanied by high temperatures and parching winds, has caused a material deterioration of most crops, especially cotton and upland corn. Notwithstanding showers of rains have fallen in many sections of the state since the first of the month, it is still true that a drought which is becoming very serious, now prevails over the greater portion of Georgia. In some sections upland corn is almost past redemption, while cotton in some sections is doing fairly well, the reverse is true in most of the counties. The fruit is below normal conditions, and the watermelon crop is far below an average, both in quantity and quality.

TOBACCO.

The census reports also show that tobacco is getting to be a crop of some importance in Georgia.

The increase in acreage in the decade from 1889 to 1899 was 188 per cent, and in production 219 per cent. The average yield per acre shows an increase suggestive of improved methods of cultivation, being 479.9 pounds per acre in 1899 as compared with 222.7 pounds in 1879. The tobacco crop of 1899 was 1,105,600 pounds, valued at $159,659. This was grown by 3,525 farmers, and obtained from 2,304 acres.

N. G. A. College, Dahlonega, Ga.

In response to a number of recent enquiries from parties asking:

"Where can I place my son (or daughter) so that he (or she) may receive a good education and yet without any great expense?"

The United States Trade Reports, in a recent issue of that widely circulated paper says:—

"Realizing the importance of the subject and the confidence that would be reposed in our answer and recommendation we have made a careful investigation of the standing and character of all the leading educational institutions, and, with due respect to many that offer good advantages, we must concede our preference for the North Georgia Agricultural College, at Dahlonega, Ga. This college is conducted on the co-education of sexes plan, and it offers exceptional advantages, and at prices especially arranged for students of limited means.

"The courses of study are broad and liberal and embrace every requirement of modern education, refinement and culture. The faculty is composed of instructors especially qualified in theory and practice to teach, and one of the features of the work in this college is the attention bestowed upon the individual education of the pupils.

"The buildings occupied are large and commodious and every facility and convenience is provided for the pupils. The living apartments are neatly furnished, while the table menu is selected and prepared from the best of country produce.

"The laboratories, library and recitation rooms are provided with every essential requisite to the proper study and explanations of the lessons taught. Military discipline prevails at the college, and its entire tone and influence, moral, social, religious, educational and physical is all that could be asked by any parent solicitous for the welfare of his child, while the climate in which Dahlonega, Ga., is situated is always of a character that is invigorating and healthful to the best degrees.

"Therefore in view of these carefully ascertained facts we have not the slightest hesitancy in recommending the North Georgia Agricultural College to those who have requested this information, to whom we would respectfully suggest that for further and detailed information regarding this model college and its most admirable system and method of education, they write its President, Joseph S. Stewart, A. M."

"The North Georgia Agricultural College is prospering, and is doing a work unsurpassed perhaps in importance and value by any other institution of learning in the South."—From Governor Candler's Message to General Assembly.
